An indispensable toy of 'pro-gamers' to be able to 'work' wherever you are - super gaming laptops - Super Gaming Laptops .

If you count your age, 'video game' - Game is a relatively young entertainment business. However, this is an industry with tremendous profits. The profits that game design companies and hardware devices serve the needs of gamers are 'dreams' of any industry. Even when people bring the annual revenue of two 'golden egg chickens': music and cinema combined cannot match .

Today gaming is no longer a mere entertainment, it has become the passion of millions of people around the world, even a few people have turned it into a 'rice rod'. The monthly income of professional gamers - this 'pro-gamer' can reach hundreds of thousands of dollars. Of course what has become professional, its toys are also lifted up professionally. Super powerful computer, large screen with fast response frequency, standard keyboard, ultra-sensitive mouse . even, the touchpad becomes 'professional'.

And an indispensable 'pro-gamer' toy to be able to 'work' wherever you are, these are super gaming laptops - Super Gaming Laptops .

VoodooPC, Alienware, Falcon Northwest . are names that any gamer wants. Take a look at a few hardware forums that will see these "strange" names not only associated with professionalism but also "brand of sophistication" .

1. VoodooPC ENVY u: 909

(Review: ****)

Stylish, professional and playful is all that can be used to describe rich people who own VoodooPC ENVY u: 909 with a starting price of $ 4900 for the basic configuration with: AMD Turion 64 ML processor 34, very bright and sharp 19" display, 7800GTX graphics (You can add another graphics board to run the Sli dual graphics engine), 512MB Ram Meg Crucial DDR-400LL . Especially for expressing your personality you have the right to choose a lot of decorative motifs. These patterns will be hand-painted with at least four coats of primer and two coats of paint over the surface to ensure durability and gloss like a mirror surface. It seems that the price for this stylish brand is quite large because u's configuration: 909 is not really as impressive as the wallet you have to spend. In return, you will have a sophisticated system that makes any gamer jealous.

2. VoodooPC ENVY u: 709

(Review: ****)

If 19" is too big and of course too heavy for a laptop in your opinion, you can choose VoodooPC ENVY u: 709 with a 17" screen. However, u: 709 also weighs 13 Pounds and the price is not light at all 4400USD for the basic configuration: AMD Athlon 64 X2 4200+, 1 Gig Ram Crucial DDR-400LL, graphics 7800GTX . If it is You can spend nearly $ 800 more to integrate the dedicated processor for today's most powerful gamer, AMD Athlon FX 60 Dual Core. Although ENVY u: 709 does not allow you to add a second graphics board to set up nVida Sli dual graphics engine like ENVY u: 909 but with the 17" screen it is unnecessary waste. And of course, the UV system: 709 also has a beautifully crafted case that cannot be criticized .

3. Falcon Northwest FragBook DR6800

(Review: ****)

With the cut bird icon - Falcon becomes outstanding because of its style and strong personality . If VoodooPC is famous for its peculiar patterns, Falcon Northwest presents its own identity with the bridge patterns. colorful and colorful. Each of Falcon's products is not a great work of art. All details are hand-drawn very carefully, with little detail . there are products that are painted with 12 layers of paint that are very durable to look enchanting, even the mouse comes with the system. also retired for the 're'. Of course, their price is not cheap, so it costs 4800USD to own a Falcon Northwest FragBook DR6800 in basic configuration: 17" WUXGA LCD, AMD Athlon 64 X2 3800, nVida Geforce graphics Go7900 and 1 Gig Ram DDR-400LL . A beautiful dream of any gamer.

4. Dell XPS M2010

(Review: ****)

Dell has risen to the forefront of PC personal computers for a long time, but in professional gamers, the name is not very familiar. Previously Dell also had several gaming PCs, but it did not get noticed, only since the launch of the XPS product line did Dell really attract the pro-gamer. There are no picky, pervasive customer services like Falcon Northwest or VoodooPC, but in return for a comfortable price, the design is equally unique, Dell is gradually asserting its position in the gaming world. profession. Dell XPS M2010 is the model: the latest laptop 'has just been released. Perhaps you will wonder why the author put the laptop in quotes? The truth is it is hard to say M2010 is a laptop or desktop with its strange design . With the removable 20.1 'screen M2010 is really' big baby ' . Luckily, M2010 still means 'portable' with a reasonable design handle, you have to 'carry' it to go and it is really horrible . It is worth it to think about it because you have a 20.1 'screen (too much) . Intel Core Duo T2400 chip, 1GB Ram . for 3500USD price. A downside is that the system does not have a dual CrossFire graphics engine, but can only mount an Ati Radeon X1800 graphics board. However, the Dell XPS M2010 is really a longing for modern gamers.

5.Dell XPS M1710

(Review: ****)

Not as big as the XPS M2010 but equally powerful is the XPS M1710. While not as sophisticated as the hi-tech artworks of Falcon and Voodoo, the Dell XPS M1710's design is cool, professional and equally playful. Inside the player's appearance is a very powerful configuration with the center being the Intel Core Duo T2400 processor, 1Gig DDR2-667 processor, which is the same as the nVidia Geforce Go7900GS 256MB graphics . the most important thing is the cost. to own 'gentle' M1710, only about 2400USD. You will completely integrate yourself into the virtual world without having to be feverish when thinking about your purse .

6. Alienware Aurora m9700

(Review: *****)

Whether it's not a pro-gamer or any gamer - hardcore gamer Alienware hasn't long been a stranger. Alienware is famous for the latest high-profile machines that are updated all the time. Alienware is one of the leading lions in the gaming hardware industry that any opponent must be shy about. Now Alienware has become even more powerful after joining the family of Dell computer bosses. Still the familiar 'alien' design Aurora m9700 is currently the brand's hottest laptop has been confirmed Alienware class. In terms of stylish brands, the configuration of the terrible price is nothing strange when Aurora m9700 is the best selling laptop this summer . With 3000 USD you can own one of the dreams of millions of gamers: configurations that even desktops crave: 17 'WUXGA LCD, AMD Turion 64 ML 34, 1 Gig Ram PC3200, 2 256MB graphics boards nVidia Geforce Go7900GS . It's hard to get a laptop Any such configuration on the same price.
