

Learn about Nothing Phone 1: A phone with a unique design

Nothing phone 1 is the first phone from Nothing company, launched on July 12, 2022. Let's give TipsMake a brief review of this interesting phone.

What brand is Nothing?

Nothing is a tech startup from 2020, headed by Carl Pei. He is one of the founders of OnePlus - a phone company that has products with lower prices but better performance than Samsung and Apple.

Pei left OnePlus and founded his own new company - Nothing.

What's interesting about Nothing Phone?

There will be nothing worth saying about the person behind an entire brand if the product is not impressive. However, Nothing Phone 1 is a phone with many points worth looking forward to.

The design of this phone is truly outstanding. The back reveals the internal design, creating the feeling that you are looking at the heart of the phone. You can also connect different pieces in a detailed and meticulous way.

In addition, the back is also arranged with an led light system, every time there is a notification it appears, forming a very interesting highlight for Nothing Phone 1.

On the back of Nothing Phone 1 is equipped with a dual camera set with standard mode and wide angle shooting. The border is surrounded by a metal band that feels solid and luxurious. While Nothing's screen is a 6.55-inch OLED screen that provides a vivid and sharp visual experience.

Nothing Phone 1 uses Snapdragon 778G + chip, a chip that is considered to be able to meet the daily needs of users.

This Android phone is known to run Android 12 operating system. Along with that is features like in-display fingerprint scanner, IP58 water resistance, 120Hz screen refresh rate and fast charging.

Overall, Nothing Phone 1 is a phone with many impressive features in its price range.

What is the selling price of Nothing Phone 1?

Another interesting thing about this phone model is its extremely affordable price. It sells for £399 in the UK (about 11 million VND). This shows that Nothing is aimed at the mid-range price segment, but the quality is not mid-range at all. The specifications all show that this is a phone worth buying in this price range.

The price in the US market has not been announced, but if converted from the price in the UK market, it will be about $ 475. This price is equivalent to the price of the iPhone SE 2022.

You finished reading the article "Learn about Nothing Phone 1: A phone with a unique design" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.