

Lenovo released a 360-degree rotating version of Yoga

The Lenovo Yoga 500 version will debut in Vietnam this month with the latest 5th generation Core i processor with 14 and 15 inch screen sizes. Inheriting the tradition of Yoga line, Yoga 500 can rotate, flip easily thanks to flexible hinges with 4 modes of use: laptop, slide show, tent and tablet

The Lenovo Yoga 500 version will debut in Vietnam this month with the latest 5th generation Core i processor with 14 and 15 inch screen sizes.

Lenovo launches new ThinkPad YOGA hybrid laptops in Vietnam

The Lenovo Yoga 500 is about to be marketed in red. 1.8 kg weighing machine.

The rounded design is on the edges and slightly beveled on the sides.

Inheriting the tradition of Yoga line, Yoga 500 can rotate, flip easily thanks to flexible hinges with 4 modes of use: laptop, slide show, tent and tablet.

Laptop is equipped with the latest Intel Core i 5th generation processor (Core i3 or i5), 4GB RAM, 500GB hard drive, Intel HD video card, running Windows 8.1.

Customizations designed specifically for touch screen use.

Yoga 500 has 2 models: 14 inches and 15.6 inches with Full HD screen, supporting advanced Dolby Home Theater audio technology. The product is expected to be available in the market in mid-May, the price has not been disclosed.

You finished reading the article "Lenovo released a 360-degree rotating version of Yoga" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.