

Lien Quan Mobile: Top 5 enduring generals over time

Although they debuted in the early days, these are all generals who are not overshadowed by the 'late birth, late birth' generals of Lien Quan Mobile.

Currently, Lien Quan Mobile has started season 21, and has also gone a 'full' 5-year journey with a lot of changes and tweaks from the general system, features and mechanisms. In general, every year that goes by, the meta game changes and many champions also take turns hot or out of the meta. However, there are still quite a few champions that are persistent and undying in the midst of these changes. Take attendance with TipsMake!

Maloch

Maloch is a champion with respectable resistance, along with terrifying true damage. Up to now, Maloch has been with Lien Quan Mobile for 4 years with a stable source of power.

The advantage of this general is his ability to defend lanes and clear soldiers first in the game, and at the same time, he can open impressive fights, so he is often used in tournaments. Moreover, based on the defense, he is also considered the safest card to protect the ADC or confront the squads with overbearing resistance.

Laurie

In terms of damage, Lauriel is always highly appreciated by gamers. This is a Mage card that has enough power to weigh 2, 3 easily, even with a Blue buff can still weigh 5. The minus point is that 'fuzzy chicken' gamers are difficult to approach and use. effective use of her skill set.

In many major tournaments in the world, Lauriel used to own a BAN rate of up to 80% because he was too strong late and was ready to defeat any opponent without hard control.

Nakroth

This is the champion that most often changes the way to build Lien Quan Mobile. Indeed, Nakroth after each new season is 'makeover' and annoyed every day. For gamers who want to conquer the rank of Master and Challenger, Nakroth must definitely be the top priority.

The impression of gamers on Nakroth is the extremely flexible skill set and the ability to pull off the hegemony. From this advantage, he can push the opponent's turret easily without worrying about being caught as well as being able to wade upstream in the underdog matches.

Murad

Despite going through a lot of nerfs, Murad is still a general who carries the 'stable' team of Lien Quan Mobile with a non-medium source of strength. Not to mention, this is also one of the rare cards capable of defeating Maloch or Lauriel in the late game.

Murad does not possess an abundant amount of health but is difficult to die thanks to possessing 2 untargeted moves. Moreover, this card can be combined with many formations instead of being picky about teammates like other junglers.

Ryoma

One of the most annoying STVL cards in Lien Lien Mobile once called Ryoma's name. For proficient gamers, this champion will help improve rank quickly, besides, Ryoma is also often chosen to go solo in ranked matches.

Although Ryoma's current build is tending to withstand and only keep a part of the damage according to the meta, but in general, it still ensures a certain degree of discomfort on the opponent's lineup. Surely this will be a very good card if gamers have good personal skills.
