

List of 52 Facebook companies sharing user data

Facebook has shared user data with 52 different hardware and software companies around the world, including many large technology companies such as Microsoft, Apple, Amazon and some Chinese companies. Data pros like Huawei, ...

After the data leak scandal of Facebook user accounts, many other Facebook users' data security issues were exposed, making the planet's largest social network the largest in history.

Last weekend, Facebook sent a new 700-page report to the US Congress that revealed many secrets. One of them is Facebook sharing user data with 52 different hardware and software companies around the world, including many big technology companies like Microsoft, Apple, Amazon and some companies. Chinese companies have data agreements like Huawei, .

According to Facebook, they ended the data sharing agreement with 38 of 52 companies and by the end of October, they will continue to stop providing with 7 more companies.

But Facebook will continue to cooperate with companies such as Amazon, Apple and Tobii (an application that helps people with disabilities use Facebook) and share data with Mozilla, Alibaba and Opera so that users can receive Facebook notifications on these browsers.

Below is a full list of 52 companies that Facebook has been sharing user data with.

1. Accedo
2. Acer
3. Airtel
4. Alcatel / TCL
5. Alibaba
6. Amazon*
7. Apple*
8. AT&T
9. Blackberry
10. Dell

11. DNP
12. Docomo
13. Garmin
14. Gemalto*
15. HP / Palm
16. HTC
17. Huawei
18. INQ
19. Kodak
20. LG

21. MediaTek / Mstar
22. Microsoft
23. Miyowa / Hape Esia
24. Motorola / Lenovo
25. Mozilla
26. Myriad*
27. Nexian
28. Nokia*
29. Nuance
30. O2

31. Opentech ENG
32. Opera Software
33. OPPO
34. Orange
35. Pantech
36. PocketNet
37. Qualcomm
38. Samsung*
39. Sony
40. Sprint

41. T-Mobile
42. TIM
43. Tobii*
44. U2topia*
45. Verisign
46. Verizon
47. Virgin Mobile
48. Vodafone*
49. Warner Bros
50. Western Digital
51. Yahoo*
52. Zing Mobile*

(*): Facebook is in the process of terminating the partnership agreement with these companies.

(): Facebook continues to provide but does not allow these companies to access user data of users.

See more:

1. Cambridge Analytica asks for bankruptcy after the scandal with Facebook
2. Facebook users have to pay to turn off ads
3. Instructions to block Facebook read theft messages on Android

You finished reading the article "List of 52 Facebook companies sharing user data" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.