

List of most advanced countries in AI 2024

The ranking of the 10 most advanced countries in AI 2024 was released by ZeroBounce after analyzing private investments made over the past decade, the number of AI-related startups and standards. workforce-related criteria such as the proportion of AI professionals and related job postings.

According to ZeroBounce's ranking, the 10 most advanced countries in AI 2024 in order from 1 to 10 include: United States, China, United Kingdom, Israel, Canada, Germany, India, France, South Korea and Singapore.

Liviu Tanase, founder and CEO of ZeroBounce, said that AI-related investments and developments will play an important role in shaping the future of global technology.

According to this list, the United States is the leading country in AI advancement. Over the past decade, the United States has invested $335.2 billion over the past decade. In 2024, 5,500 AI startups will be established in the United States and there will be 71,000 jobs related to this technology.

China, ranked second in the rankings, is the country promoting AI the fastest. The country has $103.5 billion in private investment, three times less than the United States, but there are more AI experts in the overall workforce in China, accounting for 0.64% of the total. work in this country.

The UK ranks third, with $22.2 billion in private investment over the past decade. The UK will have a total of 727 AI companies founded in 2024, the study found.

Israel has spent $12.83 billion on AI initiatives. Although there are fewer artificial intelligence startups established with 442 companies, Israel has the highest concentration of AI talent compared to the total workforce at 1.13%, study note.

Canada invested $10.35 billion in AI, ranking it in 5th place. In 2023, Canada spent $1.61 billion, slightly more on AI than Israel.

You finished reading the article "List of most advanced countries in AI 2024" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

---