

Mark Zuckerberg showed the video when he was rich, how can we make the house become 'popular'

Mark Zuckerberg has turned his home into the dream nest of so many people around the world.

Mark Zuckerberg has turned his home into the dream nest of so many people around the world.

After the introduction of his virtual assistant can handle most of the main tasks in the writing house, today Facebook tycoon proved that he did not speak out when launching a video back to how it works. What is the same thing as in Hollywood movies? And here are some photos taken at Mark Zuckerberg's family when a virtual assistant helped.

See the virtual assistant of the Facebook tycoon.

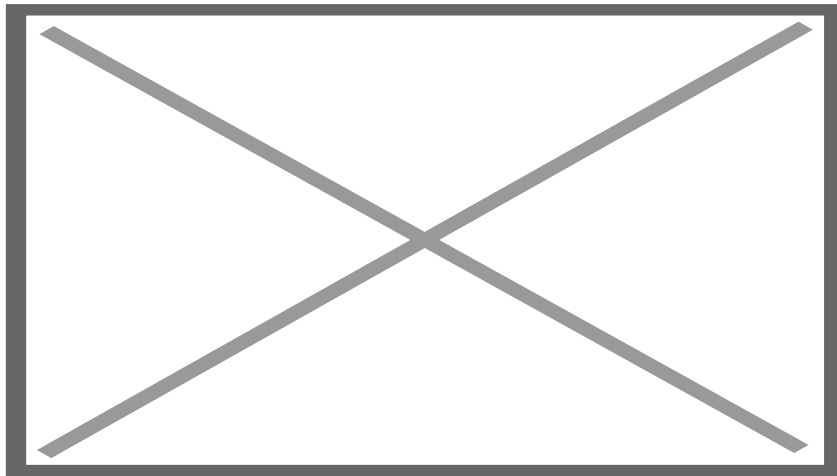

As in the article yesterday we brought to the reader, his virtual assistant Jarvis can handle many different things, such as "shooting" T-shirts for Mark Zuckerberg:

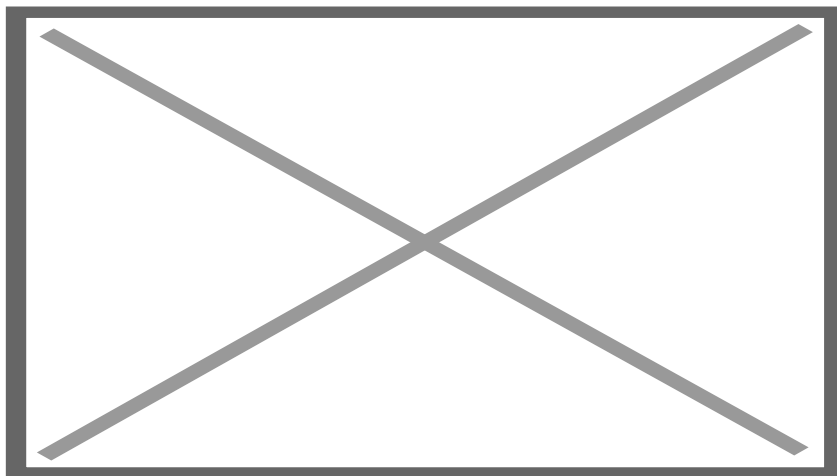

Or virtual assistant also helps you control the toaster:

What about identifying visitors to the house? In this video, the two examples are Mark's parents and the virtual assistant who used the camera to identify the two, then open the door and inform Mark:

He could even text chatbot, order him to turn off the lights in the house:

And there are many other interesting things like heating controls, air conditioners, sound systems . Mark said that the first version of Jarvis only runs on iOS but in the future will also develop for Android. . He also wants his virtual version assistant to learn more skills without having to program it. What a bold idea that everyone thinks only in movies can.

You finished reading the article "Mark Zuckerberg showed the video when he was rich, how can we make the house become 'popular'" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.