

MediaFire launches cloud storage service for iPad users

MediaFire, a file hosting service company, recently launched an online storage service for iPad users. Previously, this hosting service was also released by Media for Windows and Mac users.

MediaFire - a file hosting service company recently launched an online storage service for iPad users. Previously, this hosting service was also released by Media for Windows and Mac users.

MediaFire's iOS app version has been updated to allow users to stream all data directly from its server system on iPad and iPhone. In addition, MediaFire also added some improvements such as improving video stream quality, optimal interface for Retina screen.

Every month, users will receive 10 GB of free storage, until they reach 50 GB. In addition, MediaFire is currently offering discounts for paid packages, at a price of only $ 2.49 per month for storage, and $ 25 per year for 100 TB of storage. Interested users can download it here.

You finished reading the article "MediaFire launches cloud storage service for iPad users" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

