

Microsoft announced that it will stop supporting security updates for Windows 10 1903 from December 8, 2020

As of December 8, 2020, Windows 10 version 1903, or Windows 10 May 2019 Update, will not receive security updates from Microsoft.

Microsoft has officially announced that from December 8, 2020, Windows 10 version 1903, or Windows 10 May 2019 Update, will not receive security updates. This notice is posted by Microsoft on the Microsoft Lifecycle Policy site.

Specifically, after December 8, 2020, Microsoft will stop technical support, stop editing for newly discovered issues, and stop security patching for new vulnerabilities found for Windows 10 1903.

Microsoft recommends that users who are using its out of support services and software should upgrade as soon as possible to the latest version. This will keep their system error-free and secure from hacker attacks.

Microsoft announced that it will stop supporting security updates for Windows 10 1903 from December 8, 2020 "Your computer will still work but may be more vulnerable to security vulnerabilities and viruses than before because you won't get security updates and other quality updates," Microsoft said. "Microsoft provides free support to ensure that your device has the latest updates installed and requires that your device be up to date before supporting other technical issues."

List of 1903 Windows 10 versions nearing end of support next December

In its newly released support document, Microsoft claims that all Windows 10 1903 builds will end of support by December of this year. These include:

1. Windows 10 Home 1903
2. Windows 10 Pro 1903
3. Windows 10 Pro Education 1903
4. Windows 10 Pro for Workstations 1903
5. Windows 10 Enterprise 1903
6. Windows 10 Education 1903
7. Windows 10 IoT Enterprise 1903

After December 8, 2020, when contacting Microsoft for support, customers using one of the above versions of Windows 10 will be instructed to update to the latest version of Windows 10. If not, Microsoft will decline support.

Not long ago, due to the complicated COVID-19 translation situation, Microsoft delayed the end of support with Windows 10 1803 and 1809 until May 11, 2021.

You finished reading the article "Microsoft announced that it will stop supporting security updates for Windows 10 1903 from December 8, 2020" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.