

Microsoft officially stopped supporting Office 2007

When Office 2007 was released, it was controversial because of the strange ribbon interface, but now it is the standard between Microsoft Office applications and utilities like Paint. The company has supported this version of Office for more than 10 years (including extended support). However, from today, Microsoft will officially stop supporting this office software version.

When Office 2007 was released, it was controversial because of the strange ribbon interface, but now it is the standard between Microsoft Office applications and utilities like Paint. Microsoft giant has also supported this version of Office for over 10 years (including extended support). However, from today, the company will officially stop supporting this office software version.

Since Office 2007 support time has ended, users (mostly businesses) will no longer receive patches, feature updates or technical support for this product.

1. It is possible to download the complete Microsoft Office suite on the Windows Store
2. How to register to download Office 365 for free for students / teachers

For business users and retail customers using Office, Microsoft wants to direct them to Office 365 services - Office version has a high attraction for businesses and individual users. Because this service uses a permanent payment method similar to Spotify or a phone payment method, users can access new features and use Microsoft office applications on Windows, MacOS. , ChromeOS, iOS Android and even the web.

Besides, the Microsoft giant has announced that it will release Office 2019 next year, so it eliminates the outdated version of Office.

You finished reading the article "Microsoft officially stopped supporting Office 2007" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

---