

Microsoft reduced $ 100 when upgrading from XP to Windows 8

In order to persuade users to quickly upgrade the operating system before Microsoft finished supporting XP on April 8, the 'software giant' decided to give a $ 100 discount to users who upgraded from XP. Windows 8.

In order to persuade users to quickly upgrade the operating system before Microsoft finished supporting XP on April 8, the 'software giant' decided to give a $ 100 discount to users who upgraded from XP. Windows 8.

This promotional amount applies to those who buy Windows 8 computers that cost more than $ 599.

Users will receive $ 100 support from Microsoft when upgrading XP to Windows 8

Thus, those who are using cheap netbooks or popular desktops will not be included in this promotion.

In its program, Microsoft has emphasized products that will receive a $ 100 rebate including the HP ENVY TouchSmart and Lenovo ThinkPad SI Yoga .

Detailed product listings in the promotion are available on the Microsoft website.

One point worth noting is that although the Surface tablet computer is in the program, the Surface 2 generation alone cannot apply the above promotion level.

Microsoft's promotion will last until June 15.

You finished reading the article "Microsoft reduced $ 100 when upgrading from XP to Windows 8" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

---