

Microsoft released Gemini Office in the Fall

ZDNet page reported that Microsoft is preparing to launch a new version of Office office suite, codenamed Gemini.

ZDNet page reported that Microsoft is preparing to launch a new version of Office office suite, codenamed Gemini.

The source said Gemini will be released in the fall, which includes updates for Word, Excel, PowerPoint and OneNote.

'Software giant ' is directing Office to follow a new development strategy, from building a role as an ' organization' to building and selling Windows applications to models for developing applications and services to run on platforms. different platforms.

Analysts hope the new generation of Office may be the first version to support iOS and Android operating systems.

You finished reading the article "Microsoft released Gemini Office in the Fall" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.