

Microsoft released the Bing Wallpaper app with a huge stock of images for Windows 10

A selection of wallpapers of great interest from Microsoft for Windows 10.

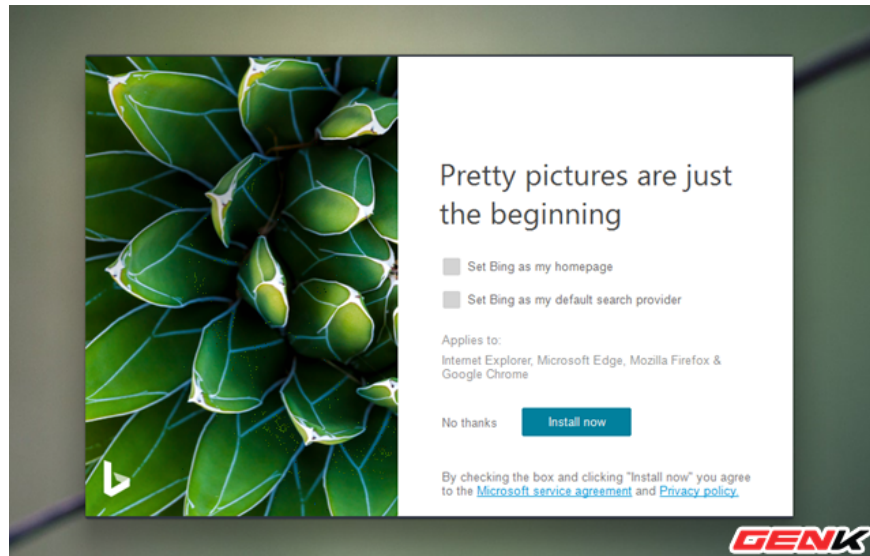

Although Microsoft has tried a lot, Bing Search has not been able to see Google Search as an alternative to everyone so far. However, an interesting thing that users love when using Bing Search is the huge collection of wallpapers from around the world displayed on the search homepage. In addition, you are also provided with information about the location of the image, as well as the author.

Responding to user interest, Microsoft has just released the independent Bing Wallpaper wallpaper app for all Windows users. Specific usage is as follows.

Visit this address <https://www.microsoft.com/en-us/bing/bing-wallpaper?rtc=1> and click "Install now" to download the installation package.

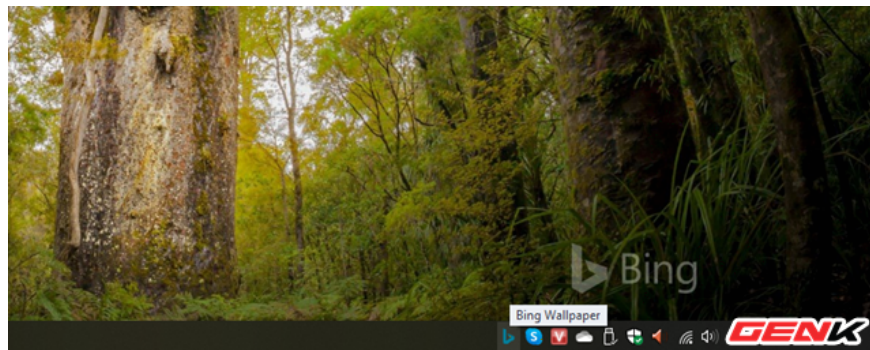

Start the installation package and unmark the default options already marked to not set Bing as the homepage, as well as select Bing as the default search engine. Then press "Install now".

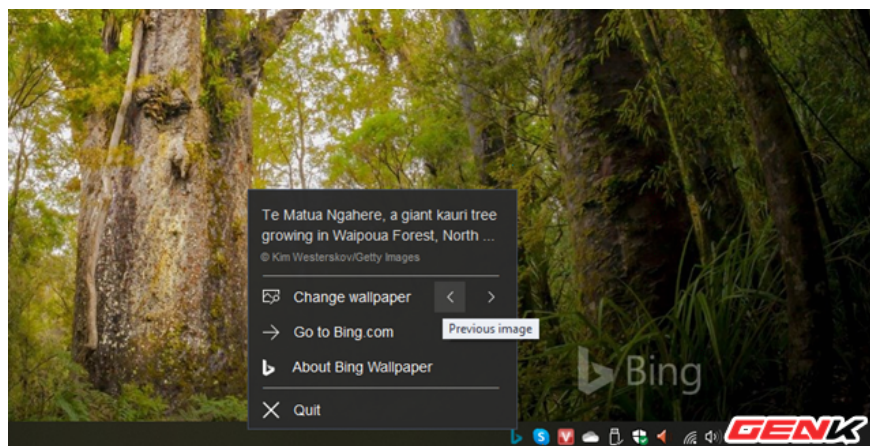

The installation process will take place automatically and quite quickly.

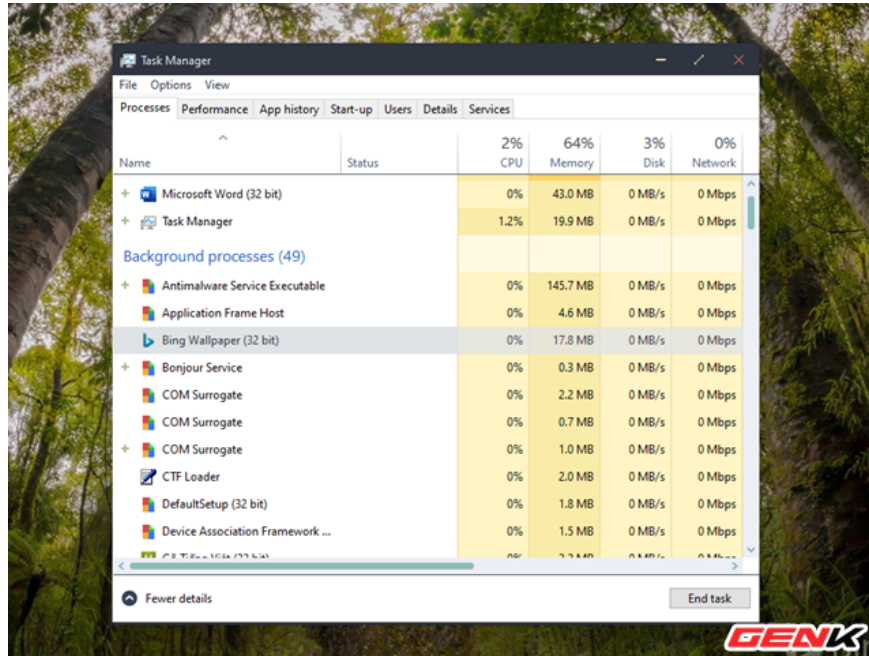

When done, the desktop wallpaper will change to the wallpaper taken from Microsoft's Bing server.

Bing Wallpaper will start running in the background with the system, and display the icon in the taskbar.

When you right-click on the Bing Wallpaper icon, you will be provided with information about the currently displayed wallpaper. If you want to switch to another wallpaper, click the arrow button in the Change Wallpaper line.

Although running in the background and constantly connected to Microsoft's Bing server to change the wallpaper, the RAM wallpaper of Bing Wallpaper is also relatively "gentle".

In general, if you are a lazy person looking for desktop wallpaper, Bing Wallpaper is a great choice for you. Of course, the background image quality of Bing Wallpaper is very good, suitable for all screen resolutions, so please be assured.

You finished reading the article "Microsoft released the Bing Wallpaper app with a huge stock of images for Windows 10" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.