

Microsoft wants people to meet Cortana on the new WP page

Recently, we can see that Microsoft has a lot of plans and plans for the virtual assistant Cortana. They will give users a new and better experience with this personal virtual assistant. And today, they pushed to continue their plan by bringing Cortana to their new Windows Phone website.

Recently, we can see that Microsoft has a lot of plans and plans for the virtual assistant Cortana. They will give users a new and better experience with this personal virtual assistant. And today, they pushed to continue their plan by bringing Cortana to their new Windows Phone website.

When you visit Windowsphone.com (US) you will see the first line on the page: Meet Cortana, your very own personal assistant . Click and you will receive a page in order to introduce the most outstanding things on the Windows Phone platform, which is headed by Cortana.

With Cortana you will receive an interesting Video about her ability to work. For example, she describes the power of her work (I can sing, tell jokes, and imitate animal sounds). The video also shows the ingenuity of AI when chatting with users.

Microsoft seems to be hitting hard on support and continuous improvement for Cortana, they are showing the power and ability of Cortana to work more than Apple's Siri. Microsoft has recently released a Video that shows the ability between Cortana and Siri. Hopefully in the near future, Cortana will get closer to users.

You finished reading the article "Microsoft wants people to meet Cortana on the new WP page" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.