Mistakes thought in the game PUBG

1. Choose a crowded parachute place?

Many gamers choose a place to parachute to find large areas, with the idea of finding lots of items to loot. But if you are a person with good skills, good shooting skills, then you should choose such positions. And if it is a mid-range shooter, not too excellent, the optimal solution is to choose places where there are no people.

In fact, the large and crowded places will have lots of things to loot, but the number of enemies surrounding it is not much. With one hand shooting pistol is not sure can destroy all that enemy, let alone those who just practice.

It is best to parachute in places where there are no people, choose the location of the remote loot of 'hot' areas like Pochinki, Pecado, . The first goal when landing is to protect your life and then calculate The math goes to loot somewhere else.

2. When should the loot be laid down?

This habit is pretty much done by many gamers, not exactly inaccurate but should only be applied when loot furniture in the room. With deserted, empty places outside the fields, the roof should not lie down. When lying down while loot furniture is difficult to handle situations.

It takes 0.5 s to get up and run away. And in that 0.5s, are you sure you won't be hit by an enemy?

The advice here is that when loot items should stand , or squat is the last choice. Move continuously by spamming AWSD, making it harder for enemies to aim.

3. Only use 2-wheel or 3-wheeled vehicles?

2-wheeled cars always get the fastest speed when moving in bo, but not so you ignore the 4-wheel option. In case there is no safe place to hide when the enemy shoots, 4-wheel vehicle is the right choice. If you play team mode, the 4-wheel drive will be even better, when you can carry 3 more teammates.

4. Jump off the car before the car stops?

You feel lost when waiting for the car to stop before getting out of the car, so jump out of the car before the car stops. This is a very dangerous habit.

Wait for the car to stop and jump out of the car. In case of early jumping, with a 4-wheeled vehicle, jump at a speed of less than 30km / h. Thus the player will not lose blood. Be careful to use the spacebar to stop faster.

5. Will you lose blood outside of bo?

Basically everyone knows that standing outside of your body will lose blood, but this only happens when more than half of the player's body is outside the bo. This means that when lying down, from the waist down the legs are outside the bo, but the upper body is still in the bo, it will not lose blood.

Gamers can take advantage of the bottom, crawl to reduce the opponent's judgment because the blue ring will cover half of you. Alternatively, smoke bombs can be used to cover a part of the body.

6. Must the accessory be in place to successfully loot?

There is no need to be so complicated when loot. If only that item went through the barrier between the outside and the contents of the inventory, it was already loot successfully. So you will save a lot of time.

7. Going slowly but still making sounds?

When you sit down and use the Ctrl key to slow down, the moving sound is still heard and the enemy can still hear that sound? If there's only a moving sound like that, the enemy won't see you. If you sit down and move slowly, your opponent won't see you, your footsteps won't be revealed.

Use this trick with indoor situations, when you suspect an enemy lurks, and easily attack them.
