The life of the blind prophet Vanga

Prophet Vanga's real name is Vangelia Pandeva Dimitrova , after getting married, she changed her name to Vangelia Gushterova. Vanga was born in Strumica, today in the Republic of Macedonia. As a child, Vanga was a completely normal girl. When she was 12 years old, a storm swept her to a field far away. When people found her, her eyes were covered with sand and dust so she couldn't open them. Because her family did not have enough money for treatment, she became blind from then on.

When Vanga was 16 years old, she began to have the ability to "see the future". That year, she described the exact location where her father's sheep was held by thieves. The female prophet said that the glowing ghost appeared a few nights, and she continuously dreamed of a supernatural figure coming to meet her and giving her a noble mission.

Rumors about Vanga, the prophetess, spread quickly in the city, people began to flock to her house. Including King Boris III of Bulgaria and fascist leader Adolf Hitler . She predicted the deaths of her family members: her younger brother, her husband, and even herself.

Not long before her death, she said there was a 10-year-old blonde girl living in France who would inherit her natural abilities. And in 2009, Vanga's successor, a little girl with all the same characteristics as Vanga, was discovered. According to the description, the baby's name is Kaede Uber , born in the city of Montpellier in southern France.
