

MSI introduces a gaming laptop 'terrorist' GX70

This is an upgrade of the GX60 model in the middle of last year with more powerful AMD processor and graphics systems.

This is an upgrade of the GX60 model in the middle of last year with more powerful AMD processor and graphics systems.

Specifically, the processor chip of this product has been updated to the four-core A10-5750M model with the faster Radeon HD 8650G graphics core of GX60 from 10% to 15%, saving more power. It is also equipped with an AMD Radeon HD 8970M discrete graphics card that is more powerful than the previous model's Radeon HD 7970M.

MSI GX70 has a 17.3-inch screen. (Photo: Notebookcheck).

In addition, MSI GX70 also uses 17.3 inch screen Full HD resolution with anti-glare, RAM DDR3L maximum capacity of 32 GB, optical drive, Blu-ray drive, USB 3.0, USB 2.0, reader Memory card, HD webcam. It supports 802.11 b / g / n Wi-Fi, Bluetooth 4.0 and MSI's Audio Boost audio technology. Machine uses 9 cell battery.

Users can choose 128 GB SSD drive with hard drive usually speed 7,200 rpm 500 GB or 750 GB capacity. If there is no need for SSDs, customers can still use regular hard drives of 500 GB or 750 GB.

The back of the machine. (Photo: Notebookcheck).

Notebookcheck says that the GX70 retains some of the previous generation features such as Eyefinity technology that supports three HD monitors simultaneously via HDMI, VGA and mini-Display connections, Killer Gaming network cards and keyboards. SteelSeries production. In addition, MSI GX70 buyers also get a free download code "Crysis 3" .

Currently, the selling price and release date of the product have not been announced.

You finished reading the article "MSI introduces a gaming laptop 'terrorist' GX70" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.