

MSI introduces a new ultraportable netbook duo

Two products launched by the company this time Wind12 U230-033 and U230-040 are all equipped with AMD processors.

Two products were launched this time Wind12 U230-033 and U230-040 are equipped with AMD processors .

Wind12 U230-033 and U230-040 both own the AMD Athlon Neo X2 processor, a 12.1-inch HD screen with a resolution of 1,366 × 768 pixels with a standard HD 16: 9, DDR2 2GB RAM memory, a card ATI Radeon HD 3200 graphics, 250 GB hard drive capacity with U230-033 and 320 GB models of U230-040.

The kit is also integrated connectivity such as Wi-Fi standard n, 1.3 Megapixel camera, HDMI port, 3 USB 2.0 ports, VGA, 4-card memory card reader and 6-cell battery included.

MSI Wind U230-033 has been sold at a starting price of 429 USD and U230-040 is 479 USD with a built-in Windows 7 operating system.

Here are some official photos of these two models .

You finished reading the article "MSI introduces a new ultraportable netbook duo" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

---