

New information about Fortnite: Chapter 6 - Season 4

The Fortnite community is excited for Chapter 6 - Season 4, launching on the 7th, and the upcoming Battle Pass with new skins, emotes, and rewards.

Fortnite Chapter 6 - Season 3 is quickly coming to an end, leaving players excited after an inspiring superhero adventure. As usual, the Fortnite community is eagerly awaiting Chapter 6 - Season 4, which launches on the 7th, and the upcoming Battle Pass with new skins, emotes, and rewards. Here are all the Battle Pass leaks that have been circulating on social media for Chapter 6 - Season 4.

Fortnite Chapter 6 - Season 4, scheduled to launch on August 7, 2025, has been making waves with leaks suggesting that the Battle Pass will revolve around the Bug Invasion season, an alien invasion. Several new skins are also expected to dominate the Battle Pass. The Agent Webb and Agent Weaver skins were leaked in the 36.30 update and are part of the Spyder Agency skin set. Additionally, the previously leaked Panda Assassin skin is rumored to be part of the Season 4 Battle Pass.

There's also talk of a Power Rangers collaboration, with a Tommy Oliver (Black Power Ranger) skin and a Megazord Tier 100 skin that features an insect and robot-like appearance. While these rumors are unconfirmed, they're also hinting at a creative Battle Pass, with insect-themed skins and big-name collaborations that will fuel Fortnite's Fortnitemares event in October.

You finished reading the article "New information about Fortnite: Chapter 6 - Season 4" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

