

New hidden games appear on Google, want to play must turn off Wifi, 3G / 4G

This new hidden game on Google has a similar gameplay to the famous one-time Flappy Bird, but you will control the cloud instead of controlling the bird.

This new hidden game on Google has a similar gameplay to the famous one-time Flappy Bird, but you will control the cloud instead of controlling the bird. This is a simple game but quite interesting, suitable to play when being 'dropped'. If you are tired of controlling the legendary dinosaur that runs on the browser while waiting for the network to "return" then this game is also a bad choice.

To play this hidden game, you must turn off all network connections. Then open the Google app and search for any keyword. A cloud image will appear with a message without a network connection. Now, just click on the cloud image to start playing. Your mission is to help the cloud go up and dodge obstacles such as thunderclouds and sky birds by tapping the screen.
