

New policy: Authorized centers of Apple in Vietnam only accept warranty devices with purchase invoices

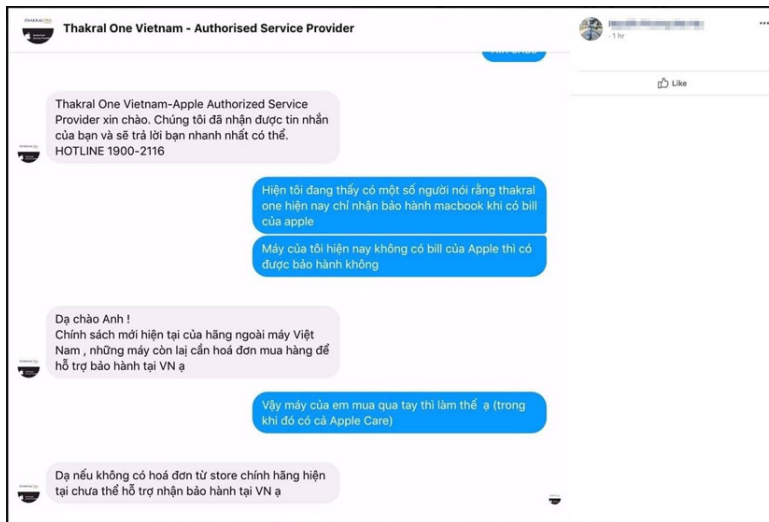

Apple has changed its warranty policy with its authorized centers in Vietnam.

Apple has changed its warranty policy with its authorized centers in Vietnam.

Specifically, from now on, authorized centers of Apple in Vietnam will not receive warranty for its products without purchase invoices. Apple's new warranty policy applies to all iPhone, iPad, MacBook, AirPods, iMac models .

This means that if there is no genuine store invoice, Apple devices cannot support warranty in Vietnam.

However, in case the customer has previous invoice photos and if the device code or IMEI is correct, the device will still receive warranty support from the Apple authorized center in Vietnam.

Screenshot from a Facebook user when inbox asks Apple authorized center - Thakral One Vietnam

So how is the purchase of Apple equipment valid under Apple's new policy? It is a purchase invoice at stores or retailers anywhere. If you buy Apple products through e-commerce websites, only genuine (company) Vietnam will be authorized by warranty centers.

1. Some Apple warranty centers in Vietnam
2. 4 things to do before taking the phone for warranty
3. Users forget to increase the brightness of the MacBook Pro screen, Apple thought the device was broken and spent more than $ 10,000 for warranty

You finished reading the article "New policy: Authorized centers of Apple in Vietnam only accept warranty devices with purchase invoices" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.
