Why can't I enter the Survive the Killer game code on Roblox?

1. Expired code: Every code in the game has an expiration date, especially codes released during events such as Halloween, Christmas or Valentine. When the code has expired, you will not receive anything when you enter it. It is best to enter the code as soon as you see it, because if you hesitate, it will be gone.
2. Entering the wrong code: Many people make simple mistakes such as misspelling, missing letters, or incorrect uppercase and lowercase letters. The game is very sensitive, even if you make a mistake with just 1 character, it will not be recognized. The best way is to copy the code directly and paste it in, do not type it by hand.
3. Used code: A code can only be used once per account. If you have entered it before, you cannot enter it again, even if you delete your character or change your device.
4. Playing a fake version of the game: Roblox has many clones of Survive the Killer that are exactly like the original game. These clones will not work with the code. Make sure you are playing the version published by the developer Slyce Entertainment.
5. Network error or roblox error: If your network is lagging or roblox is under minor maintenance, the code entry may fail. Try exiting and re-entering the game, or switching to a different wifi to be sure.
