

Ni no Kuni: Cross Worlds - How to turn off auto-battle and auto-play

Ni no Kuni: Cross Worlds is a comprehensive multiplayer role-playing game from developer Level-5, with cutscenes made by Studio Ghibli, the renowned animation studio that has made iconic films such as My Neighbor Totoro and Spirited Away.

This Cross Worlds game has a lot of different elements that make it stand out from previous Ni no Kuni games. One of the most significant changes is that players can choose to have their characters move automatically in battle and on the field.

Ni no Kuni: Cross Worlds players can relax while their character automatically goes to the next part of the quest and defeats the enemy without lifting a finger. However, not all players want to experience the automatic feature that Cross Worlds brings.

Fortunately, auto-battle and auto-play can be turned off and on at any time during the adventure. In this article, let's learn how to enable/disable auto-play and auto-battle (Auto-Play and Auto-Battle) in Ni no Kuni: Cross Worlds.

How to turn off Auto-Battle mode in Ni no Kuni: Cross Worlds

To turn off auto-battle in Ni no Kuni: Cross Worlds, players need to tap on the two crossed swords icon at the bottom of the screen during battle.

It should be right next to Ni no Kuni's Familiars list. Players can tap it to make their character auto-fight, computer attack and use special skills or abilities.

If the icon is hit again, the player can put it on semi-automatic mode, meaning the player character will continue to attack on its own, but no skills will be used.

If the player presses this button a third time, the auto-battle will be turned off completely and everyone can take full control of the character's combat actions.

How to turn off the Auto-Play feature

If the player looks to the left side of the screen, the quests are currently available. By tapping on one of the quests, it will glow and everyone will automatically move to the next location or NPC needed to complete the quest.

To disable Auto-Play, simply tap the mission again and the player characters will stand still, waiting for the player to take control again.

For those just starting out, make sure to take advantage of the currently active Ni no Kuni: Cross Worlds codes for lots of freebies. Besides, you can refer to the Ni no Kuni: Cross Worlds Guide for beginners to understand more about the game.

You finished reading the article "Ni no Kuni: Cross Worlds - How to turn off auto-battle and auto-play" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

