Add joy to Nokia in particular and Windows Phone in general when the company has received Lumia phone orders with the number of 30,000 units.

According to a recent announcement from Nokia, the company signed an agreement with CaixaBank - a finance company - to provide Lumia smartphones to employees. In the first stage, Lumia 925 will be the chosen name and allow upgrading to Lumia devices with higher configurations in the future. CaixaBank employees will have full rights to use the device as personal property.

" The close cooperation between CaixaBank and us will be a bridge to allow Nokia and Microsoft to support more in terms of technology, thereby helping CaixaBank employees to work more creatively and creatively ," Nokia said in Press Release.

With the number of 30,000 Lumia 925 smartphones, Nokia " broke the record " of 19,000 Lumia 820 orders it had previously signed with Delta Airlines . But above all, it will help Windows Phone dominate the market share of mobile operating systems, which are dominated by Android and iOS.
