

Notes for new players Truth Arena League of Legends

These notes are small but also a notable factor in the League of Truth League to help you win

Due to the game mode of Truth Arena is 8vs8 and the gameplay will not be like the League of Legends. The game of Truth Arena is the same as Dota Auto Chess's "character flag", so the player's skill in 5vs5 mode will no longer matter.

Instead, now you have to learn how to form a team, build tactics, but most importantly, whether you're lucky or not. The player with the last Little Legends will be the winner.

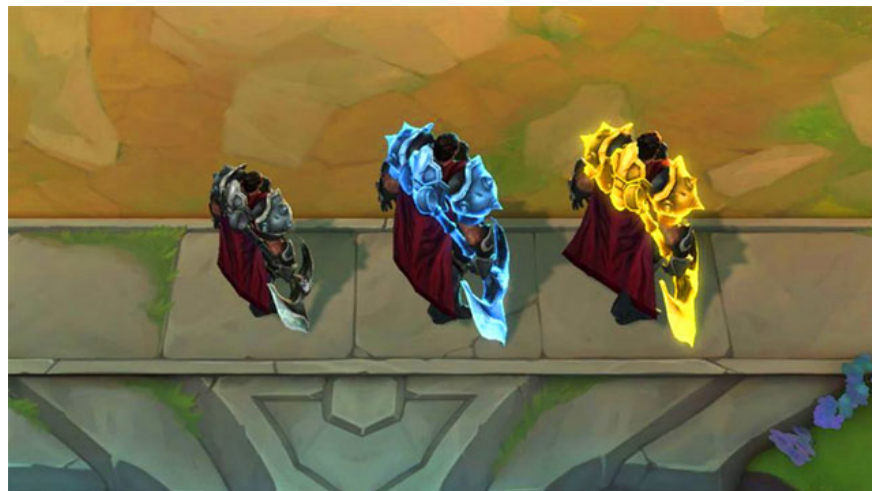

And perhaps many people also know how to play when referring to videos of the Truth Arena arena or see how to play League of Truth League game but still have notes that will help players win easily.

In this article will include notes that you need to keep in mind when playing the Truth League League of Legends.

1. Top 5 Wizards and Assassins most effectively
2. League of Legends: Ranking 5 strongest generals in the Arena of Truth
3. BXH the high damage generals in Truth School League League

The note when playing the Truth School League League

Choose the same champion to level up so that the champion

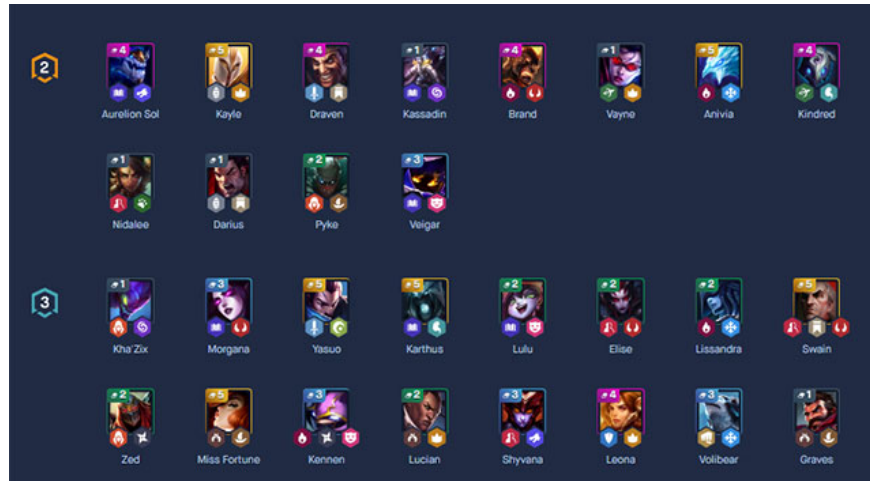

Every time you get "promoted", your general will be stronger, "promoted" here to upgrade your champion. Every time you collect 3 identical generals, you can increase your champion.

Every 3 stars 1 star will be combined into a 2-star general, 3 2-star generals will be combined into 1 3-star general. The 3-star level is the largest level a general can achieve and cannot be upgraded.

And especially when combining generals to raise them, the items and equipment that those generals have will be combined. If you have many low-cost pieces, this will be a huge advantage.

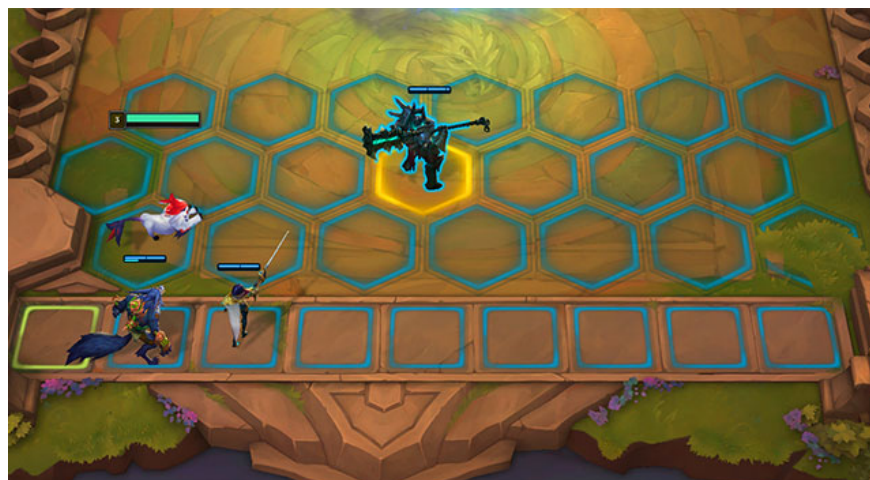

All generals have the same level

In 5vs5 LMHT mode, the generals have levels from 1 to 18, however in the Truth Arena the chess pieces have no level and will be on the same level.

As mentioned above, upgrading a general will only increase the number of stars and help the general stronger than the original. So to dominate, collect the same generals to get to the star level quickly.

Placement of generals will greatly affect the outcome of the match

In 5vs5 mode, all actions of the general are controlled by you. But in the Truth Arena mode, all generals will automatically jump in and "tear up" each other. You just have to fold your arms and watch them punch each other.

However, you also have to follow the opponent's lineup to see how to put their generals to learn. Then arrange your formation to fend off the most effective way.

And everyone knows that the resisting generals will be in the foreground and put the long, weak hands in the back.

The generals will use Mana

Any general of the Truth Arena can use the ultimate move, and to use that skill the champion will need mana. So you can use Goddess Tears for Katarina so that this piece can use more ultimate moves.

A rather interesting mechanism and can relate much to the player's lineup. Specifically, the generals in the Truth Arena will be divided into Sections and Tribes and there will be a number of different buffs.

If you collect enough heroes that the System or Race requires, your squad will receive certain beneficial buffs for the entire lineup. This is one thing you should pay special attention to because it can determine whether you will win or lose in the game.

Component equipment

The combination of equipment of DTCL League will not be the same as the 5vs5 mode of League of Legends, but only 2 basic equipment can be combined into a more complete equipment than before.

In addition, the equipment in the Truth Arena also has some differences such as being able to equip every champion in the Truth Arena. For example, the Guinsoo Blade (Wood Bow + Oversized Stick) has a 5% boost in attack speed and continuous stack.

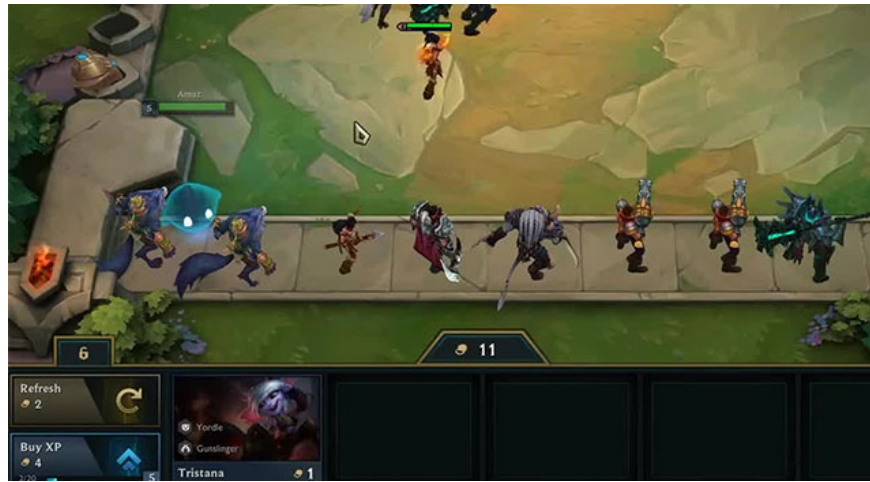

Diverse squad

There are a lot of habitual gamers who often invest in a play style and set up a specific strategic formation. However, it is rare for players to achieve the formation they want by the Truth Arena based on a lot of chance factors.

So instead of looking for a dream team, you should make good use of what's in your hand, instead of constantly refreshing the list of heroes. So you won't save a lot of money and it's hard to win.

100% refund when selling generals

That's only for low-level generals, when you go into early stages, you don't need to store gold because all the generals at this time have a gold price. And if you buy a lot, you can still resell and get 100% refund.

Unless you are intending to store gold for gold mold with profits, don't worry too much about saving gold in the first round.

Gold is profitable

If you accumulate at least 10 gold in stock, after the end of a game you will be added 1 gold in the next round. This gold is called "interest", although you have never sent a bank.

And this number will continue to increase if you accumulate gold by the 20, 30, 40, 50 mark and your HP is still high. You will receive 10% for every accumulated gold.

Accumulated gold by Pirates

If you have a Pirate combo then don't forget to pick up the gold every time a round ends. Gold will fall in the form of a chest, let Little Legends approach and there will be gold coins falling, come near that gold coin and your Little Legends will collect them.

If you don't move to pick up the gold, then they will disappear and not automatically add to your existing pocket. That gold may help you win so pay attention to it.

It is a little note in the League of Truth League, if you combine them and apply them to your battle, the effect will help you win that 90%.
