The Walking Dead: Our World is the "follow-up" game of the popular TV series Next Games Oy. The game is equipped with AR technology to give players real experience when "hunting" "Pokémon Go" style zombies. Players can interact with the real world based on their own location and whereabouts.

The game has a method of operation and the idea is designed quite similar to Pokémon Go, so the more the player moves in real life, the higher the chance of encountering zombies.

The player's mission is to destroy as many zombies as possible while collecting materials and items to upgrade their weapons. The stronger the weapon, the easier it is to kill zombies.
