According to Vietnam time, the event will be broadcast live at 1am on January 23, 2025. This is the perfect time for the global technology world to admire the new advances from Samsung.

Users can follow the Galaxy Unpacked 2025 across multiple online platforms. Samsung will broadcast it live on its official website, YouTube channel, and Samsung Newsroom. The main highlight of the event is the Galaxy S25 Series

The Galaxy S25 Series will be the focus of Galaxy Unpacked 2025. The trio of products, including the Galaxy S25, Galaxy S25+ and Galaxy S25 Ultra, offer significant upgrades over the previous generation. According to leaked images, the Samsung Galaxy S25 series still retains a familiar design but is optimized for performance and features.

The most advanced version of Galaxy S25 Ultra promises to impress with a large 6.9-inch screen and an upgraded camera system. In particular, the new 50MP ultra-wide-angle lens will significantly improve photography capabilities.

In addition, the S25 Series will be equipped with the Snapdragon 8 Elite chip, providing superior power and smooth performance. Samsung also did not forget to upgrade the RAM capacity on the versions, helping users to easily handle multitasking.

The integration of artificial intelligence (AI) is also one of the highlights. The Galaxy S25 Series will come with a new Bixby upgrade, which works similarly to AI models like ChatGPT, providing a smarter and more convenient experience. All of these improvements promise to take Samsung's flagship line to a new level.

One UI 7 and software improvements

Along with the Galaxy S25 series, Samsung will introduce One UI 7. This is the latest customized version of Android that is optimized for a better user experience. One UI 7 not only improves the interface but also adds many new features, helps optimize performance and save energy.

One UI 7 is expected to not only appear on the Galaxy S25 series but also be updated on previous Galaxy phone models. Samsung has always focused on the software experience and the release of One UI 7 is a clear demonstration of the company's commitment to long-term customer support.

Other products may appear

In addition to the Galaxy S25 series, Galaxy Unpacked 2025 could also be where Samsung introduces surprising new products. One of them is the "Moohan" XR headset project. This is an augmented reality device developed by Samsung in collaboration with Google and Qualcomm. Although the possibility of an official launch at the event has not been confirmed, information or teasers about this project may appear.

Samsung Galaxy Ring 2 is also expected to be launched at this event. With the ability to integrate many health features and smart connectivity, this product can create a new trend in the wearable technology industry.

In addition, Samsung may also announce a special edition called the Galaxy S25 Slim. However, many sources say that this product will be introduced in May 2025 instead of at Unpacked this time.

When can Vietnamese users own Galaxy S25?

As usual, after 1-2 weeks of product introduction, it will officially be available on the shelves of retailers in Vietnam. It can be said that the Galaxy S25 Series is the most anticipated flagship line at the beginning of this year.

It is expected that after the Lunar New Year, the S25 series will be on sale. You can follow and update the latest information or pre-order the product at the Mobile World system with attractive opening sale programs and many accompanying incentives.
