

Officially: Apple Card will definitely debut in August

Apple Card will definitely launch officially and start receiving requests to register for service in August next.

At the 'It's Show Time' event on March 25, Apple introduced information about many new services to be released in 2019. In particular, the most notable is probably the information about a separate credit card branded Apple App called Apple Card.

Recently, Cupertino company once again spoke about this service and publicly confirmed that Apple Card will be officially released and start receiving requests to register for service in August next.

1. iPhone 4S, iPhone 5, iPad 2 suddenly received a new iOS update to fix the error showing the wrong date and time

Apple Card will be Apple's new credit card service, which will be available in August

'You may not know yet but thousands of our employees have been using Apple Card every day for a long time as part of the beta testing plan, and we will start launching Apple Card in January. 8 ', CEO Tim Cook said in an interview.

Apple Card will be supported by Goldman Sachs and MasterCard (lender), and will appear in both forms: Hard card (made of titanium, silvery white, only with the customer's name and logo) and technical card number. However, Apple Card will not use the traditional 16-digit card number, CVV code or expiration date as a personal identifier. Instead, it will generate random series of authentication numbers in each different transaction, while the authentication series will also be generated on the registered device itself to keep it safe and secure. Maximum confidentiality for users. Besides, Apple also pledged that Goldman Sachs and MasterCard will not be able to track and collect information regarding where you shop, what to buy, or how much you spent .

1. Apple officially released iOS 12.4 and watchOS 5.3, invited to upgrade and experience

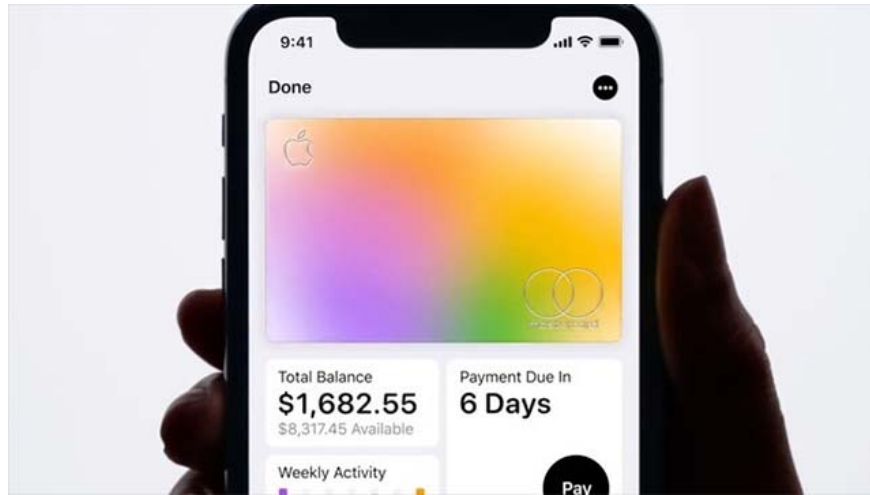

Hard card form of Apple Card, made of titanium, silvery white, only with the logo and name of the customer

In addition, Apple Card also has a Daily Cash program with many attractive offers, such as returning 2% for purchases made with Apple Pay and 3% when buying items at Apple Store . These are battles. Apple's smart strategy, helping Apple Card own a huge competitive advantage over other credit cards that have been around for a long time in the market. In particular, Apple Card will be an extremely convenient and reasonable choice if you are using iPhone and plan to buy more Apple products in the future.

In addition, Apple Card is currently not charged, no penalty if the user forgets the payment term, does not collect international fees . All transactions on Apple Card are verified by Touch ID and Face ID.

1. Will be able to use Face ID and Touch ID to login to iCloud on macOS Catalina and iOS 13?

All information about the account will be managed through a mobile application

CEO Tim Cook has not yet revealed the exact launch time of Apple Card, but it is likely that the service will be launched in the second half of next month.

You finished reading the article "Officially: Apple Card will definitely debut in August" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.