

On the hands of Realme 6 Pro: The back of lightning, Snapdragon 720G, 6 cameras, 90Hz screen

It is known that Realme 6 Pro will sell in the middle of the month, with an expected price of less than 8 million

After Realme 6, a more advanced phone has appeared and is ready to hit the market in Vietnam. Compared to the two versions of Realme 5 and Realme 5 Pro last year did not have much difference in appearance, this year the company has created some more strong points to look Pro products look more "top".

The product box is still the main yellow color of this house. The included accessories are no different from the "non-Pro" version: charger, cable, case, SIM card, manual and still don't have a headset.

The first time you pick up the phone, the first thing you see is the lightning bolt icon on the back of the device. Realme was very skillful when choosing the surrounding color is black, the blue gradient color in the shape of a lightning bolt will move from the outside to the inside depending on the view of the user, it feels like the machine effect is being recharged.

This is also a part of Realme's sales highlight when promoting products with VOOC 4.0 30W fast charging technology, giving a charge of 4,300 mAh battery in just 55 minutes.
