If you are a fan of anime and manga, One Piece is probably no stranger to you. This is an extremely famous Japanese comic series. One Piece tells the story of the adventures of the Straw Hat Pirates led by the main character Monkey D. Luffy.

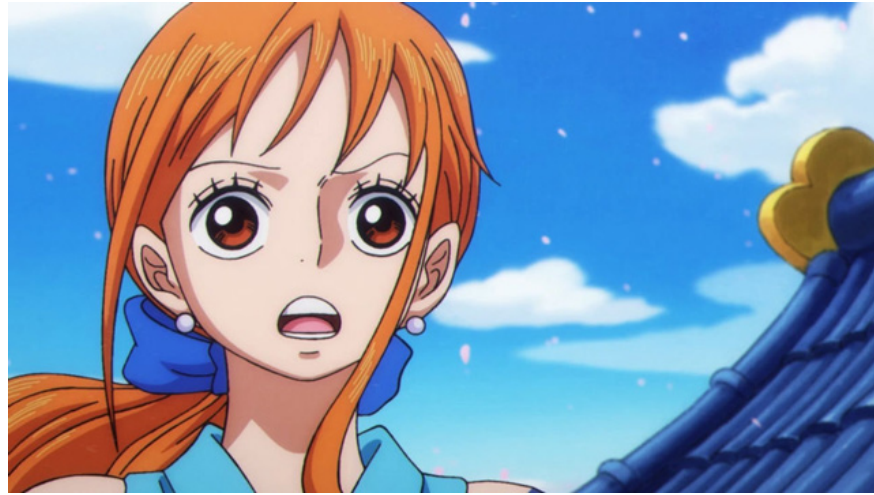

Over 25 years and thousands of chapters/episodes, Luffy has collected many valuable things for his crew, but things are not over yet.

If OnePiece's currently ongoing Wano arc hasn't given viewers much information, there's still room for growth for all the characters. Even Luffy, the leader of the crew, has gone through some upheavals in this arc.

After all, which straw hat member is the strongest in the group? There are many conflicting opinions, each fan has their own opinion. This article will summarize for you the strength of the straw hat members and who is the strongest in the group.

10. Nami

Even though she recently bonded with Zeus and significantly increased her offensive capabilities, Nami is still the weakest member of the Straw Hat crew.

Her one-on-one battles in One Piece have all resulted in victory, however all of these were battles before entering the New World. By New World standards, Nami is the weakest link in the Straw Hat crew.

9. Usopp

Usopp is the sniper of the Straw Hats, he may not be the strongest member in combat but he is not the weakest either. Similar to Nami, he has a good record in one-on-one combat. However, those were all before coming to the New World.

Usopp has contributed a lot to the New World of the Straw Hats, however he has yet to engage in a single one-on-one fight, let alone win.

Some fans theorize that the next island they will visit will be Elbaf. At the same time, they also believe that this is where Usopp can increase his power significantly. However, at the moment Usopp is still the second strongest member from the bottom.

8. Chopper

Chopper is a member of the Weakling Trio (Nami, Chopper, Usopp) so it's no surprise that in terms of strength, he's only ranked 8th. His Devil Fruit gives Chopper powerful fighting abilities. In the Wano arc, we can see that in his Monster Point state, he can slap and injure the Queen.

In addition, in the Thriller Bark arc, his genius medical ability allows Chopper to fight enemies extremely effectively. It can be said that in certain cases, Chopper contributes a lot compared to his ability. However, when compared to other members of the Straw Hat crew, Chopper is still not considered too strong.

7. Franky

Unlike the three members mentioned above, Franky has proven his fighting ability in the New World. In the Dressrosa arc, we saw him defeat Senor Pink and in the Wano arc, he took down Tobi Roppo Sasaki and his Armored Division.

His metallic body gives Franky extra durability and protection from enemy attacks, with only his back being vulnerable. The weapons that Franky has equipped on his body from the beginning to the present show that he is a formidable member of the Straw Hat crew.

6. Brook

Brook's strength has greatly improved during the Time skip thanks to his Soul Fruit. This has been proven throughout his journey in the New World so far.

His swordsmanship also steadily improved throughout his journey in the New World. He even had enough skills to assist Robin against Black Maria.

5. Robin

Robin is one of the five strongest members of the group. After the battle with Black Maria, Robin can use the Devil Child form. When she deploys this form, Robin will transform into a large monster with shiny black skin and wings.

That fight also witnessed the first time Robin used Fishman Karate - an extremely powerful martial arts technique in One Piece that was used by Jibe, Koala.

4. Jinbe

Jinbe is a former member of the Shichibukai, so it's understandable that he's considered a strong man in the pirate crew. In addition, he once claimed to have defeated Who's Who of the Tobi Roppo - an achievement that cannot be ignored when talking about Jinbe's strength.

3. Sanji

Sanji's position in the Monster Trio is further strengthened by his new Ifrit Jambe technique, which is capable of burning with a heat 12 times hotter than the sun.

Some fans speculated that Jinbe might be stronger than the former prince of Germa, however this no longer seems to be the case now that Sanji has gained new powers.

Furthermore, Sanji has been involved in one-on-one fights since his first day in the New World. In the Fishman Island arc, he fought and left a strong impression on the fans. Dressrosa saw him clash with Doflamingo. Especially in Whole Cake Island and Wano, he fought and took down a Yonko commander.

2. Zoro

Zoro's awakening of enhanced Conqueror's Haki solidified his position as a powerful member of the Straw Hat crew. Zoro has always been the second strongest member of the crew, worthy of the title of first mate he holds.

Zoro's achievement of Enma and awakening of advanced Conqueror's haki in the Wano arc further affirms his strength and status in One Piece.

1. Luffy

It's no surprise that Monkey D. Luffy is the strongest member of the Straw Hat Pirates. From taking down Doflamingo to his confrontation with Kaido and his exploits and achievements in the New World, everything is exciting. What's even more terrifying is that his awakening is also growing rapidly.

Like Zoro, Luffy has awakened enhanced Conqueror's Haki, a rarer technique than the standard state. Luffy can also use Ryou - an ability that allows him to see the future for a few seconds.
