Bringing in the unique and rare features that nature bestows, Ong Doi Cape and Khem Beach are two beautiful new destinations of Phu Quoc not inferior to any famous place in the world.

Until 2009, Bai Khem and Mui Ong Doi remained under the military's control. Recently, these two places have been put into tourism, so the unspoiled natural environment is still intact, there are not many footprints to discover .

1. Ong Doi Cape - the only place where you can watch the sun rise and set in a position

The favored nature has been given to Ong Doi Cape, an extremely special position, with both sides of the sea, Mui Ong Doi is the only place where you can watch the sunrise and set in the same place. position.

Not only that unique and rare characteristics, this place also looks as beautiful as a harmonious painting of water, attracting any tourists who come by. Ong Doi nose is beautiful with a white sandy beach stretching along the clear blue beach, bringing the majestic of the rugged rocky mountain, brilliant with countless species of sea creatures, colorful coral reefs. and pristine with lush green grasses. All together, forming a tourist paradise, not inferior anywhere in the world.

The sea water in the sea seems to see through the ocean floor, adding a gentle and gentle sea wave like a lake to help visitors easily dive and watch the amazing ocean world, watch fish and shrimp swim and swim. around brilliant coral reefs.

Next to the beach is a natural freshwater well that never runs out, so it is called the Gieng Tien relic. Fairy wells are formed from an underground water circuit. The water in the well tastes strangely sweet, never getting salty even though the tide is sometimes high.

2. Khem Beach - smooth white sand like powder

Located not far from Ong Ong Cape is a long white sandy beach called Khem Beach. Khem Beach is located in the south of Phu Quoc Island, in An Thoi town. Sand in Khem Beach has a special feature that is nowhere to be found. You have to go barefoot in the sand to feel the softness, softness, you can see how smooth the sand here. Prominent under the blue water, the transparent layer of white sand is like powder, even if stepping on the sand, it will not be raised like other beaches.

The gentle and gentle sea lies on its arc, leaning its head against the white sandy beach, adorned with moss-like rocks tinged with time. Behind the sea is a vast, vast green forest that still retains the original primitive features.

Sea water ripples and ripples, suggesting the peace and tranquility is very suitable for those who want to take pictures away from the virtual streets of the city, looking to the fresh nature for relaxation.
