

Opera Mini 8 improves interface and better support for popular phones

Opera Software has announced that it has released a new version of Opera Mini browser, Opera Mini 8, which mainly supports the Java platform on popular phones.

Opera Software has announced that it has released a new version of Opera Mini browser, Opera Mini 8, which mainly supports the Java platform on popular phones.

The Opera Mini 8 interface is designed to be similar to other versions of the Opera browser with an improved start page that gives users quick access to their favorite websites.

In addition, Opera mini 8 also provides many useful new features such as private browsing mode, support for separate tabs without saving information on the cache when closing the tab, Night mode for browsing in the background, darker color. Opera mini 8 also has a function to help users control data traffic when browsing the web and options to save data traffic such as reducing the resolution and size of images when downloading without leaving the page, web to adjust.

You finished reading the article "Opera Mini 8 improves interface and better support for popular phones" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.