

Oppo sends an invitation to announce Find 7

Oppo has just sent an invitation to the media to attend the launch event of its flagship Find 7 smartphone in Beijing (China) on March 19.

Oppo has just sent an invitation to the media to attend the launch event of its flagship Find 7 smartphone in Beijing (China) on March 19.

The invitation of Find 7 is displayed as a video clip when attaching a smartphone to the pyramid model

According to GSMarena, the unique feature of the Oppo invitation letter this time is in the invitation box with a mysterious black pyramid model, next to the paper with a QR code printed.

If iOS or Android users scan this QR code on the device, then place their smartphone on the pyramid model, there will appear small video clips introducing Find 7 shown right on the map of the tissue Pyramid shape looks very creative.

Regarding the Find 7 smartphone, it is likely that this model will be available in two different versions, including a full-HD screen and a 2K screen.

In terms of configuration, the machine is expected to use Snapdragon processor 800, 3 GB RAM, internal memory of 16 GB or more, the rear camera can use up to 50 MP sensor.

You finished reading the article "Oppo sends an invitation to announce Find 7" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

