

Order Galaxy S20 series and receive Galaxy Buds + headphones for free

When customers order Galaxy S20 +, S20 Ultra first will be immediately free a set of Galaxy Buds + headsets.

In less than a month, the new Galaxy S series will be launched globally and new information is constantly being posted by many technology experts. Most recently, expert Evan Blass has leaked the names and designs of S20 +, S20 Ultra and Samsung's upcoming Galaxy Buds + earphones. Especially to mention the program to order Galaxy S20 + or S20 Ultra tiles will receive Galaxy Buds + Aura Glow headphones completely free. However, Samsung seems to have 'forgotten' the Galaxy S20 without this compelling pre-order program.

The Galaxy Buds + earphones will thus be released alongside the Galaxy S20 series. The earpiece doesn't have active noise cancellation (ANC), but instead has a bigger battery and improved audio and mic quality than the first-generation Galaxy Buds. The upcoming model will feature Sky Blue in addition to the traditional white and black colors, replacing the yellow color of the previous Galaxy Buds.

Included with the Galaxy S20 are the cases with three traditional types: Protective Standing Cover, LED View Cover and Clear View Cover. Particularly for Galaxy S20 Ultra will get exclusive Kvadrat case.

All information about the new Galaxy S20 series will be announced at the Galaxy Unpacked 2020 event in San Francisco, CA at 2:00 GMT + 7 12/2 (Vietnam time). Interested readers can watch the event live at Samsung Global Newsroom, Samsung Mobile Press and Samsung.com websites.
