

Panasonic ultra-durable laptop costs nearly 100 million VND

The Toughbook 19 has a magnesium housing that resists force when dropped from a height of 1.8 meters and can be used in many types of harsh weather.

The Toughbook 19 has a magnesium housing that resists force when dropped from a height of 1.8 meters and can be used in many types of harsh weather.

Toughbook 19 cost about 74 million VND. (Photo: Notebookcheck).

Panasonic has just officially introduced a new laptop as Toughbook 19. The product uses Intel Core i5-3320 vPro processor, 500 GB hard disk speed of 7,200 revolutions per minute, the battery capacity is 10% older than the old model with connection USB 3.0.

According to Notebookcheck, Toughbook 19 is equipped with 10-inch XGA resolution screen with flexible rotation, 4 GB RAM can be upgraded to 8 GB, Intel HD Graphics 4000 integrated graphics. This model supports Wi-Fi and Bluetooth 4.0.

Users can choose to integrate more for Toughbook 19 touch screen, 128 GB SSD drive or 256 GB, fingerprint reader and SmartCard. In addition, the manufacturer also allows to add some other features such as 4G LTE, 3G,

GPS, webcam 3 " dots", keyboard support backlight, HDD and battery lock.

Products cost 3,549 USD, equivalent to 74 million VND.

You finished reading the article "Panasonic ultra-durable laptop costs nearly 100 million VND" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.
