FreeSpace 2 is a space war game set in 2367, more than 30 years after the first great war in the universe. At that time, the Shivan faction owned the more technologically advanced warships that dominated all fronts, gradually taking over the Milky Way and becoming the most powerful force.

After being affected by the war, insurgent races like Terran and Vasudan had to leave the front and retreat to their own planet to rebuild their forces.

But the Shivan faction did not want to stop, they continued into the Gamma Draconis system. The player's mission is to play a spacecraft pilot with his fleet against the Shivan faction.

Compared to the previous section, FreeSpace 2 has more interesting and dramatic elements, players must not only fight on the battlefield, but also have to find a way to find the enemies existing in the allies themselves. Mission system in the game allows the player to fail at certain missions.
