How to awaken devil fruit in Blox Fruit

In Blox Fruit, there is a mode called Raids, which debuted in update 11. This update allows players to participate in Raids missions to receive Fragments. . They are very important in awakening your devil fruit.

Each Raid will give you 250 to 1000 Fragments, plus 4.5 multiplied by the number of seconds remaining on the clock to get the remaining number of Fragments you are entitled to. If you have received 1000 shards then that is the maximum number you can earn per raid.

If you run out of time in a raid, you'll earn 60x the number of islands you're on. For example, if you are on the 3rd Island, you will have 180 pieces.

Fragments are obtained from raids when you use devil fruit attacks on raids. By completing the raid with the power of the devil fruit, you will be teleported to a strange entity. Talking to this entity allows you to use Fragments to awaken a skill in your Devil Fruit skill set.

However, you cannot choose any skill you like in the devil fruit skill set. But you must awaken them in order. Once you earn enough Fragments from farming Raid, you can begin to awaken your Devil Fruit.

To participate in raids, you will need the following items or conditions:

1. Reach level 1,100 to organize a raid: While you can participate in a raid if you are in the New World, organizing a Raid requires players to be level 1,100. This is quite a long process if you want to become an organizer.
2. Raid Coupon (Raid Chip): You need to spend 100,000 Beli every two hours to buy a Raid Coupon. Additionally, you can also trade any Devil Fruit to the Mysterious Scientist for a Raid Ticket. Raid Tickets are required to join or start a raid.
3. Prepare some powerful equipment: You don't need the strongest equipment in the game, but you at least need to be able to survive without running out of time. However, by the time you join Raids, you are already quite strong. The better your weapons and fighting style, the easier Raids become.
