

Price of Huawei P40, P40 Pro and P40 Lite

The report also revealed that there will be four Huawei P40 models.

Today, a website in Greece has revealed the price of Huawei P40 smartphones in the European market, although it is not until March 26 that the launch event will take place. The report also revealed that there will be up to 4 P40 models.

Specifically, the price of Huawei P40 smartphones in the European market is as follows:

P40 Pro 256GB: 1,130 EUR (1,272 USD)

P40 128 GB: 849 EUR (948 USD)

P40 Lite: 329 EUR (367 USD)

P40 Lite E: 199 EUR (222 USD)

We can see that the price of Huawei P40 and P40 Pro is almost similar to Apple's iPhone 11 Pro and Apple's iPhone 11 Pro Max. This is not too high a price for newly launched high-end flagship smartphones. However, given that Huawei P40 does not have Google services installed, this may be an unacceptable price.

AppGallery app store is currently Huawei's solution to replace Google Play Store. Popular apps like Facebook, Instagram and Twitter are reported to be available on AppGallery soon. Huawei also attracts a lot of 3rd party developers for its own ecosystem. However, whether AppGallery can replace the Google Play Store or not, we will have to wait a while longer to evaluate.
