

PUBG is officially free for players

The original PlayerUnknown's Battlegrounds (PUBG) will go free to play starting January 12, 2022. As developer Krafton announced at The Game Awards earlier.

The original PlayerUnknown's Battlegrounds (PUBG) will go free to play starting January 12, 2022. As developer Krafton announced at The Game Awards earlier.

PUBG when it was first released on Steam was a paid game and created a craze for gamers. And then a series of games "following" the battle royale genre were "shipped" for players who are passionate about this genre such as Fortnite, Apex Legends, COD Warzone. and still very attractive to players until present.

Download PUBG for PC here.

And over the years, PUBG has updated and changed a lot, since its launch in Early Access on Steam. Besides, the game also developed a lot of new platforms like PUBG Mobile on mobile. After certain successes in the world gaming village. Now PUBG has had a breakthrough. That is free PUBG PC for players, this will help expand the PUBG player community around the world. Bring all the exciting features of the game to everyone.

Although PUBG PC is free for players, there will still be some locked features. And Krafton plans to introduce a $12.99 account upgrade called Battlegrounds Plus that gives you access to ranked and custom modes, special in-game items, and more. previously purchased PUBG will receive a special PUBG Anniversary Pack, which includes Battlegrounds Plus and additional in-game items.

This free version of PUBG will also have some improvements that the publisher is working on. Players will see upgrades as soon as the game is released as well as future updates. Now get ready, participate in skydiving, loot enough items, run and earn Chicken Dinner with your friends.

You finished reading the article "PUBG is officially free for players" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.