

Realme 6i: MediaTek Helio G80 chip, 5000 mAh battery

Realme 6i is equipped with MediaTek Helio G80 chip, this is the first smartphone in the world to run this chip.

Realme 6i, the next smartphone of the realme 6 series has officially launched online on the Facebook page of the regional firm Myanmar.

The Realme 6i is equipped with a 6.5-inch HD + waterdrop-proof LCD screen and occupies 89.8% of the front of the device. It is also equipped with Eye Care Mode technology to help protect the eyes better and provide a better experience for users.

The Realme 6i is equipped with a cluster of four cameras on the back, including a camera with 119-degree ultra-wide angle lens, 48MP main camera, portrait lens and macro lens. Front camera of the machine has a resolution of 16MP f / 2.0. It has a fingerprint sensor on the back.

The Realme 6i battery has a capacity of 5000mAh and USB-C port, with 18W fast charging technology to increase user convenience. It can charge other devices like Buds Air realme headphones.

About configuration, Realme 6i is equipped with MediaTek Helio G80 chip, this is the first smartphone in the world to run this chip. Realme 6i's GeekBench score unexpectedly appeared, the single-core test reached 345 points and the multi-core test was 1293 points.

Realme 6i comes pre-installed with Android 10. It comes in 2 colors White Milk and Green Tea. Colors and design language of the device was created by Japanese designer Naoto Fukasawa.

Price of Realme 6i specifically:

1. 3GB RAM version + 64GB ROM: 249,900 KS
2. 4GB RAM version + 128GB ROM: 299,900 KS

Realme 6 and Realme 6 Pro: 90Hz screen, 64MP camera, 30W fast charging

You finished reading the article "Realme 6i: MediaTek Helio G80 chip, 5000 mAh battery" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.