

Record Laptop Win 10 screen without software

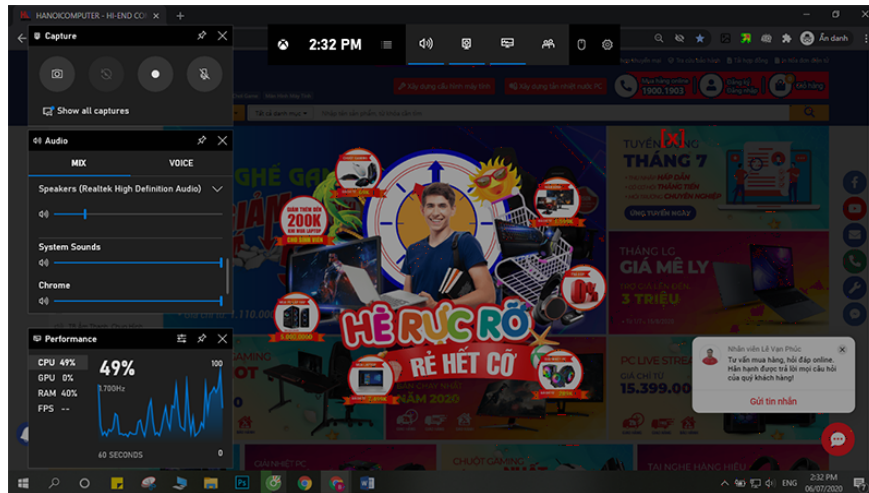

How to record laptop screen Win 10 without software update to the latest Win 10. Record laptop screen quickly and most effectively

If your computer is using Win 10, congratulations, with just one extremely simple step, without installing any other software, you can quickly record your laptop screen . A tool called Game Bar built into Win 10 will be extremely effective in helping you do this!

Enable Game Bar to record Windows 10 laptop screen

Very simple! To record the screen of a Win 10 laptop , just follow these steps!

Step 1: In any window > Press the Windows + G key combination. The Game Bar interface will appear.

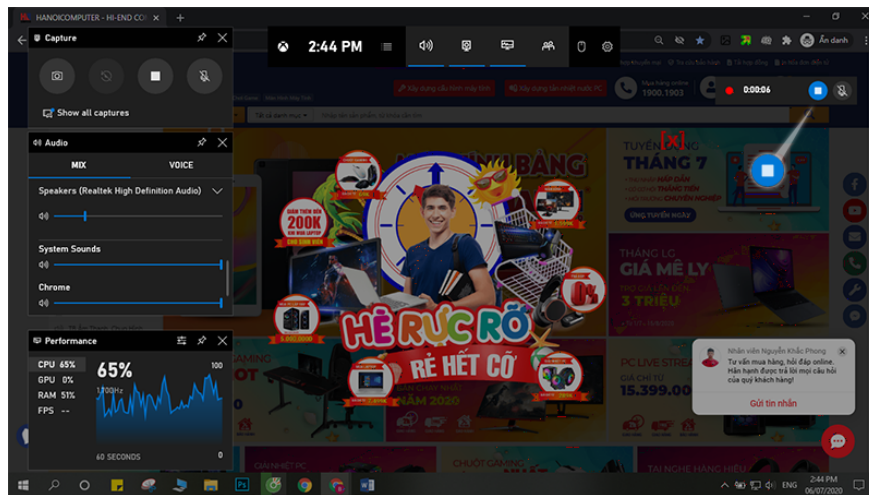

Step 2: What you need to pay attention to is the Widget Capture window at the top left. Press the Start Recording button at the 3rd position.

Step 3: Then the recording bar will appear on the top right of the screen. Your screen has started recording.

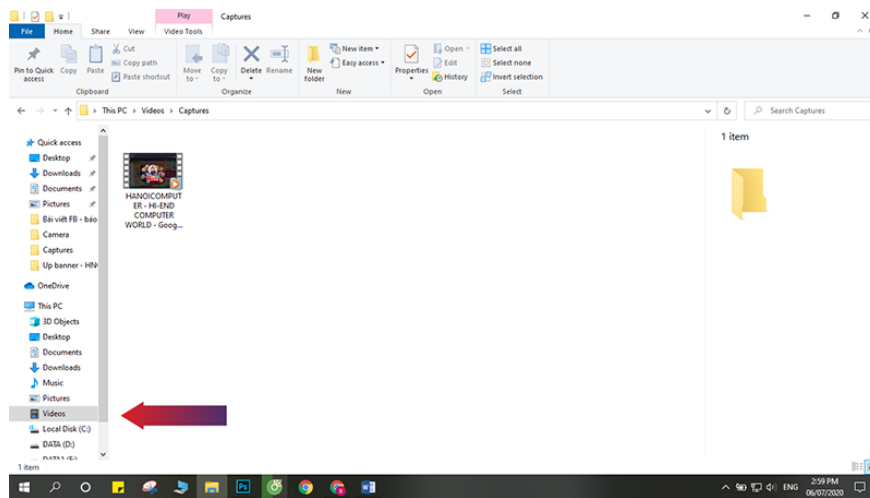

Step 4: To end video recording, click the green circle button.

Where is the screen recording video of Win 10 laptop saved?

When you finish recording your laptop screen , the video you just captured will be saved in the VideosCaptures section:

Disadvantages of recording laptop screen with Game Bar

You may wonder why such a simple method of recording laptop screen is so simple, why do many people still choose a third-party software to record the screen. Although simple, the method of recording screen via Game Bar has a few unfortunate disadvantages as follows:

1. The recorded video capacity is quite high.
2. To record more sound from the microphone, click the mic icon to remove the cross symbol.
3. This method is only used to record videos on 01 working window, it cannot be recorded when you change working windows. So don't be surprised when you are playing music but when watching the screen recording video, there is no sound! The reason is that the program window you choose when starting Game Bar has no sound.
4. When you click on the function Tabs of a software window, the drop-down options will not be collapsed...

And there are some other disadvantages. Other software and screen recording apps are developed by manufacturers to overcome these disadvantages, thereby reaching a larger number of users.

However, the method of recording laptop screen via Game Bar is still quite popular because of its simplicity. This method is suitable for those who need to record a short video on the screen.

Hopefully this article from TipsMake has given you an interesting method to record your Win 10 laptop screen without software!

TipsMake - proud to be one of the leading units providing genuine quality electronic test equipment, laptop computers with many of the most attractive promotions. Many product lines such as: laptops , PC Gaming, tablets, Microsoft Surface Laptop ., Contact TipsMake today to receive the earliest advice.

You finished reading the article "Record Laptop Win 10 screen without software" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.