

Recover more than 5,000 MacBook Pro batteries because of fire risks

Electronics retailer Best Buy has recalled 5,100 MacBook Pro computer batteries provided by a third party after the US Consumer Protection and Product Safety Commission announced 13 cases were on fire.

Best electronics retailer Best Buy has recalled 5,100 MacBook Pro computer batteries provided by a third party after the US Consumer Protection and Product Safety Commission announced that 13 cases have been burned. Most users are seriously injured.

Computer MacBook Pro - (Photo: Gizmodo)

The Gizmodo tech site on June 19 said both the white and black samples of the lithium battery have been recalled. The batteries are sold from September 2008 to June 2012. Those who bought can check the purchase time on the product.

Best Buy said it will contact customers to notify them of the recall, and offered to exchange another battery charger or get a gift voucher. However, Best Buy is not the only electronics retailer selling these batteries.

You finished reading the article "Recover more than 5,000 MacBook Pro batteries because of fire risks" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.