

Review Logitech G304 Wireless Gaming Mouse

Should I buy a Logitech G304 wireless mouse? The pros and cons of the Logitech G304 wireless mouse that you should know before deciding to buy

Up to the present time, Logitech is probably a name that is no stranger to those who love computer accessories in the world. So today, let's review and comment on a Logitech G304 Gaming mouse, a mouse that supports wireless connections, to see if it has something interesting, and is worth buying.

1. Design of Logitech G304 Mouse

Before considering the features, the first thing that makes me feel good about this Logitech G304 mouse, is its appearance.

Logitech G304 is designed in a very simple, compact, colorless, fussy, and aggressive way like other gaming mice and this makes it easy for gamers to get used to.

The mouse shell is made of lumpy plastic, curved on the sides, providing a comfortable feeling to hold, suitable for the average hand size of gamers holding palm and claw-style mice.

The mouse has a total of 6 function buttons, including 2 side buttons, 1 scroll bar button, a DPI adjustment button, and 2 left / right mouse buttons.

2. Outstanding features available on Logitech G304

With HERO sensor, Logitech 304 saves 10 times more energy than previous sensors, delivering maximum acceleration from 200 DPI to up to 12000 DPI.

In addition, this wireless mouse is designed with advanced nanotechnology LIGHTSPEED, which has an extremely fast response time of just 1ms, along with smooth, precise response.

This will help gamers be able to play the game seamlessly without delay, especially FPS games like CS: GO, Call of Duty, Far Cry or most recently Valorant.

In addition, the mouse has two preset buttons, Performance Mode and Endurance Mode, on the bottom of the mouse, helping you to adjust battery life.

1. Performance Mode: Adjust the mouse response time to 1ms (1000 Hz) and can be used for about 250 hours continuously.
2. Endurance Mode: Adjust the mouse response time to 8 ms (125 Hz) and battery life will be up to 9 months of continuous use.

3. Customize with Logitech Gaming Software

If you want to tailor the Logitech G304 mouse to the one that suits you best, then Logitech Gaming Software will definitely be a very useful companion.

Basically, this software will allow you to adjust Power Mode between HI and LOW or 1000 Hz respectively up to 125 Hz, adjust the function of buttons on the mouse and adjust the DPI.

4. Evaluation according to my personal opinion

In my opinion, I would rate the Logitech G304 as follows:

You will like:

1. The design is polite and simple with a smooth, grainy plastic shell.
2. Very fast, shooting CS: GO with my best friends is fine.
3. Compact, easy to hold, hold when using.
4. Battery life is 'super buffalo'.

You probably won't like:

1. The price is very acrid, buying online is now the cheapest of more than 800,000 VND, not suitable for casual gamers.
2. The mouse uses an external battery instead of the built-in battery.
3. No Bluetooth connection and this is a minus point 'super huge'

5. Conclusion

So my review of Logitech G304 wireless mouse here is over, and I hope this article will help you get the best look before ordering this Logitech G304.
