

What is so special about the S Line and the red thread in the movie that it has caused a global 'fever'?

S Line will explore how people are connected, exposed and judged by these red threads. Here are the highlights of the Korean drama S Line that made it a global sensation.

Everyone has a secret. But what if your deepest secret was suddenly exposed by a red string hanging above your head, connecting you to every sexual partner you've ever had? Privacy would cease to exist.

The mystery-fantasy thriller S Line will explore how people are connected, exposed, and judged by these red threads. Here are the highlights of the Korean film S Line that made it a global "fever".

S Line is a live-action adaptation of the popular provocative webtoon of the same name by Kkomabi. The film's director and screenwriter is Ahn Joo Young, known for works such as "A Boy in Sungreen", "Pig Riding Hood", "Cartwheel".

The film depicts a supernatural phenomenon where a red line (S-line) appears above each person's head. These lines connect them to everyone they have ever had sex with.

S Line has special content

The story follows Hyun Heup, a young girl born with the special ability to see indelible red lines hanging above other people's heads. These lines connect them to their love partners.

However, global chaos ensues when someone suddenly invents a special pair of glasses that can mimic her special ability, allowing anyone who wears them to see these "S-lines". When everyone's private histories are suddenly exposed, society falls into chaos. She teams up with a detective to find out who is responsible for creating the glasses and selling them on the black market, ultimately stopping the growing problem.

The film explores the dire consequences of losing all privacy when people are suddenly connected, exposed, and judged for past relationships.
