

Samsung Galaxy A32 launched in India

After introducing the Galaxy A32 last week, Samsung has officially launched a new rookie of the mid-range Galaxy A phone line in India.

In fact, all about the design and configuration parameters of the Galaxy A32 have been announced, only the price has not been disclosed.

Samsung sells Galaxy A32 in India for 21,999 INR, a pretty good price when the phone owns 90 Hz screen. Galaxy A32 comes with four color options including: Awesome Black, Awesome Blue, Awesome Violet and Awesome White.

Picture 1 of Samsung Galaxy A32 launched in India

More specifically about the Galaxy A32, the device owns a 6.4-inch Super AMOLED screen with Full HD + resolution, using the Infinity-U design, reaching a maximum brightness of 800 nits, protected by Gorilla tempered glass. Glass 5 and integrated fingerprint sensor under the screen.

Galaxy A32 has a single memory configuration, with 6 GB RAM and 128 GB internal storage. The device uses Helio G80 processor and is pre-installed with Android 11 operating system.

Picture 2 of Samsung Galaxy A32 launched in India

The back of the Galaxy A32 has a four-camera setup, which is the main 64 MP camera, 8 MP super wide-angle camera, 5 MP depth camera and 5 MP macro camera, allowing Full HD video recording at 30 FPS. While the front of the device has a 20 MP selfie camera.

Galaxy A32 owns a 5,000 mAh battery, supports fast charging capacity of 15W. Some other equipment includes: WiFi b / g / n / ac, Bluetooth 5.0, LTE, GPS, USB-C port and 3.5mm headphone port.

Picture 3 of Samsung Galaxy A32 launched in India

Other notable Galaxy A32 features include: Eye Comfort Shield, Game Booster, Samsung Knox and Samsung Pass.

You finished reading the article "Samsung Galaxy A32 launched in India" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.