

Samsung introduced the Galaxy Note10 + a cool version of Star Wars

Samsung has just announced a special edition of the flagship Galaxy Note10 + smartphone inspired by the launch of the blockbuster Star Wars: The Rise of Skywalker.

Samsung has just announced the special edition of the flagship Galaxy Note10 + smartphone inspired by the launch of the blockbuster Star Wars: The Rise of Skywalker, the third part of the sequel trilogy in the series of War between the Stars, launched in December 2019.

This can be considered as a meaningful gift for samfans and especially fans of this 'legendary' science fiction series. The Galaxy Note10 + Star Wars model will have elements of the film-inspired design style and especially the exclusive Star Wars-themed digital content store, including wallpapers, animation, icons and audio files.

In addition, Samsung will also take care of even the smallest details such as the product box design, metal badge attached as a collectible item, high-quality leather case with embossed S Pen and Galaxy Buds, all will have the characteristic Star Wars style.

It can be called an interesting collaboration between 2 'galaxies', one of Hollywood and one of Samsung to create a technological masterpiece that is very valuable to collect.

'All Samsung products are designed to follow a variety of styles to meet the diverse needs of our users, while helping them pursue their passion, and we think our fans Star Wars 'tomb is one of its most passionate customers,' said Stephanie Choi, senior vice president of mobile marketing for Samsung Electronics.

Galaxy Note10 + Star Wars Special Edition will be sold in Australia, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Hong Kong, South Korea, Norway, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Turkey, UAE, UK. and the US from December 10, 2019. The exciting collaboration between Samsung and Star Wars promises to give fans a shopping and entertainment season that is worth waiting for this Christmas.
