Apple has just announced that ' if you use enough force to bend the iPhone, or any phone, it will also be bent ', and said only 9 cases out of millions of new iPhones have been sold. Curve, at the same time invite the reporter to come to the " ministry " of the iPhone challenge process. However, that did not stop Samsung - the company that 'traditionally' taunted Apple - spoke about the event.

And Samsung has immediately launched a "double-line" strategy for the company, which is criticizing Apple, promoting the Galaxy Note Edge. Galaxy Note Edge is a smartphone with curved screen on the side. And Samsung wrote on Twitter that the Galaxy Note Edge is curved rather than 'curved'. Note Galaxy Note Edge is a smartphone with a unique curved screen, rather than a 'curved' style of the iPhone 6 Plus bent.

In addition to the above Twitter post, there is also an advertisement (whether or not it was launched by Samsung) for the Galaxy Note 3, with an illustration of a bent phone, like kneeling at a foot. another proudly rising phone, along with a 'implied' statement.
