Experience of buying quality air purifiers, good prices

Determine your need for an air purifier

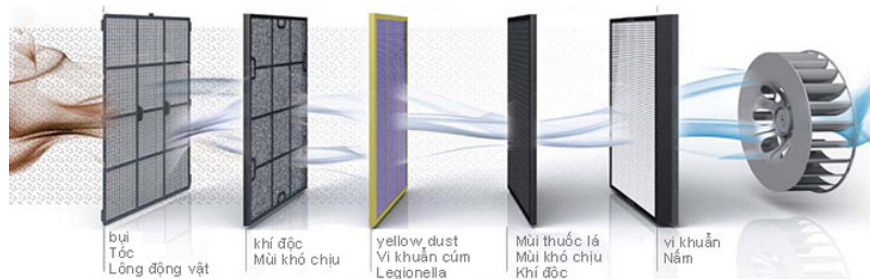

As with some other household electrical appliances, the first thing when choosing to buy an air purifier is determining what your air purifier is going to be? You buy air filter pads to use in cars, cars? Buy to use for the family? Or buy industrial air purifiers for offices, companies? Each model has models with different capacities, operating ranges and filters.

Besides, not all spaces and areas of use have the same air quality. Therefore, based on the air condition where you install to choose the type of air purifier suitable. For example, you want to buy a machine just to filter ordinary dirt or to filter and remove unpleasant odors or cigarette smoke, or also want to fight bacteria, pollen, shavings from mushrooms, animal hair .

Choose the type of air filter

Each type of filter is different, on different products will have the effect and efficiency of air filtration is not the same. Accordingly, the better the filter, the smaller the volume of particles, the higher the cost. Therefore, please base on the pollution situation where you plan to install to find the appropriate type of filter below:

1. Coarse filters handle large sizes of dirt;
2. Titanium filter, Water filter, moisturizing effect;
3. Activated carbon filter helps eliminate toxins, odors, cigarette smoke and can absorb formaldehyde, the active ingredient found on newly purchased items, but when turned off, this formaldehyde will quietly penetrate back into the room. should bring the device outdoors, balconies, open space after turning off; Pollen filter helps reduce allergens such as pet hair, pollen .;
4. The Hepa filter is the most advanced, capable of absorbing a large number of very small particles that cause asthma and respiratory allergies in humans.

Choose capacity, air flow, air purifier

The capacity and air flow of the air purifier should be selected to suit the area of the room you want to use. This is very important in helping the filter achieve optimum efficiency and save energy.

Of course, when buying an air purifier, you will also be advised and basic introduction about the capacity of the machine and how effective the filtration range is. But you still need to keep this in mind, do not choose the type that is too large or too low for the use area, as it will lead to low air filtration efficiency as well as consume more power than necessary. .

Select air filter feature

When choosing the right filter type and drain, the next thing that you should care about is the selection of the features that come with that air purifier. Currently, in addition to filtering air, dirt, manufacturers also equipped with other modern features such as humidification, dehumidification, UV disinfection, remote control, mosquito-catching support. , timer via application .

However, it should be noted that each of the features included contributes to the price of the product. So, based on your needs, habits and money to choose the device with the appropriate features!
