What is LoL Recap?

LoL Recap (or LoL Rewind) is a tool that summarizes a gamer's journey over the past year using statistics, metrics, and gameplay data through an application called YearIn.LoL. This is a collaboration between Riot and community partners to extract data from players and provide the most comprehensive and interesting overview possible.

Similar to YouTube Recaps and Spotify Wrapped, LoL Recaps provide comprehensive account statistics and data such as the number of games played, win rate, KDA, total game time, and total countdown time across various modes including normal, ranked, ARAM, and even time-limited modes like URL and Doom Bots. Recaps offer a truly interesting perspective for gamers and may surprise you when you look back on your journey in League of Legends – will you be a war god on the Summoners Rift battlefield or a Grand Challenger in ARAM?
