Through the summary of the above price packages, we can see that the price of iPhone 4 of 2 operators also has some differences. If at the international price prepaid, VinaPhone is cheaper than 7-800 thousand dong, then in the postpaid package, Viettel is less than 100 thousand dong.

Portable goods waiting for adjustment

On the laptop side, through market reference, shippers are taking steps to adjust prices and every move is still scrutiny. According to Huy, a portable shipper in Hoan Kiem District, said: " According to the first phase of the network, there will be only about 1,000 vending machines divided equally for two networks, the demand will remain high and the buyers will be easy to choose from. Equivalent notebooks that are not tied to a commitment package or network lock, so prices will be less volatile ".

Therefore, until now, most of the owners have set the price of approximately 15.5 million for the 16GB International version and 17.2 million for the 32GB International version and this price is still stable from the beginning of the week until now. Perhaps in the next 1 or 2 days, depending on the supply and demand of the market, portable goods will have stronger adjustment steps. It is likely to come down to the price of genuine goods, the difference from 200 to 300 thousand VND.

Portable iPhone 4 will continue to drop prices hit floor level?

At this time in Singapore, the island nation near Vietnam, where the price of iPhone 4 is quite low, also has a relatively high supply of goods instead of burning goods like a month ago. This is also the source of the iPhone 4 imported by the merchants because the Hong Kong market is currently burning goods due to being exported back to China in the " Apple " storm.

In a comprehensive way, if the user needs to make a lot of calls and is a subscriber of two distribution networks iPhone 4, he should use postpaid package, will be supported with voice charges and promotional offers. 3G data. If you are a MobiFone, Beeline or Vietnamobile network subscriber, you should choose a prepaid package that is not committed or wait for a longer time for portable products with better price adjustments.

According to the latest information, at the time of this morning (September 30) when the operators sold iPhone 4 will still only have the black version. The fastest white version still has to wait until the end of October and early November to have genuine domestic sales.
